ARMY REVOLTS AGAINST PERON

Collapse Of Talks Nears; Red Troops Open Attacks

Hopes Dim As Bradley, Aid Arrive

Communists Fail To Answer Ridgway On Transfer Of Site

TOKYO, Sept. 28 (AP)—The suspended Korean armistice talks appeared near a complete breakdown today as General Omar Bradley arrived here—possibly to map strategy if full-scale fighting erupts.

The Chinese and North Koreans have not answered Ridgway's suggestion Thursday for getting the bogged-down parley going again.

He wants the conference site switched from Kaesong, behind Red lines, to the Songhyon area in no man's land. The village is six miles southeast of Kaesong.

Observers said this could be Ridgway's last compromise proposal.

The Reds broke off armistice talks Aug. 23. They accused the United Nations of violating the neutrality of Kaesong. The charge was denied.

Underscoring the pessimism were U.N. pilot reports of masses of enemy trucks moving toward the battlefront and a flareup of Red infantry attacks all along the battleline.

Ridgway's headquarters, in an unofficial release, echoed the futility of the last six weeks of bickering and note exchanges.

The release charged the Reds sought resumption of the armistice parley on their own terms or a complete breakdown "out of sheer frustration".

Ridgway has proposed that the five-man delegations first discuss maintaining the neutrality of the new location. Then they would return to debating the establishment of a demilitarized zone across Korea—the agenda item under discussion when the talks were abruptly halted by the Reds 37 days ago.

But there is little hope that the Communists will accept the latest U.N. command suggestion.

Communist newsmen told Allied correspondents Thursday at Panmunjom, where an official copy of the message was delivered to a Red liaison team, that the Reds still want Kaesong as the meeting place.

These Red newsmen often reflect the official thinking of the Communist high command, headed by North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese General Peng Teh-huai.

Red China's official Peiping radio quoted a dispatch from North Korea:

"If Ridgway is allowed to have his way, the resumption of the Korean pace talks will be sidetracked into discussions of conditions such as the question of a new site and as many other impossible demands as Ridgway wishes to bring out to block the resumption of the armistice talks."

Bradley's plane arrived at the near-by Haneda airport at 9:30 p.m. (8:30 a.m. East Liverpool time). The chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff was accompanied by Charles Bohlen, State Department expert on Russia.

The Defense Department in Washington said Bradley will "survey all aspects of the situation" with Ridgway.

M'CARTHY OPPOSES JESSUP'S NOMINATION. Sitting on the sidelines, Philip C. Jessup (right) smiled incredulously as Senator McCarthy (R) of Wisconsin (left) told a U.S. Senate committee considering Jessup's nomination as a United Nations delegate that Jessup is among those who are "either naive and dangerous or loyal to the Communist cause".

Benton Opens Sharp Attack On McCarthy

Promises Evidence To Back Charges Of 'Perjury And Deceit'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Senator Benton (D) of Connecticut told a Senate rules subcommittee today he will present evidence to help it decide whether Senator McCarthy (R) of Wisconsin "has committed perjury and has practiced calculated deceit".

Benton made the statement at a public hearing on his resolution looking toward the possibility of ousting McCarthy from the Senate. It was the first step in a proceeding which could take months to reach the showdown stage—if it ever does.

Reading from a 25,000-word prepared statement, Benton said he will show that McCarthy "has created for himself not only a record of irresponsibility but one of lack of integrity and character". Benton added:

"I, of course, am persuaded that my own testimony will develop for you ample evidence to show that Senator McCarthy should be expelled, but at a minimum I hope your committee will agree that further investigation is not only warranted but imperative."

The hearing was opened to the public as the result of a last-minute decision by the subcommittee.

Chairman Gillette (D) of Iowa announced the decision after a brief closed session while Benton sat waiting to deliver his 25,000-word brief.

Gillette said that for the present, at least, McCarthy won't be allowed to cross-examine Benton, as the Wisconsin senator had demanded. The chairman also said the committee plans to hear only Benton and McCarthy as witnesses.

McCarthy left yesterday to fill a speaking engagement in New Mexico.

Senator Hendrickson (R) of New Jersey said he wanted the record to show he had voted against a public hearing.

Gillette said no television, no radio and no movie cameras will be permitted to record the proceedings.

"If we're going to make a three-ring circus of this, I am going to retire," Hendrickson declared.

Benton told the subcommittee he

Judge Decides Arguing With Wife Not Assault Case

A man may haggle with his wife forever without committing a crime so long as he keeps out the profanity and makes no threats.

That's the gist of an opinion Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw issued Thursday in the case of a couple who conceded that their six years of wedded life has been virtually one running argument.

Mrs. Sue Davis, 22, accused her husband, Lester Davis, 25, of threatening to assault her Tuesday. They live at the DeSylvan Hotel.

After long testimony from both, Judge Brokaw said he could find nothing on which to convict the husband of assault on that occasion—or any of the many others mentioned.

"Did you two ever get along?" Solicitor John B. McDonald asked Mrs. Davis.

"No sir, never!" she replied. Mother of three, Mrs. Davis said she was married at 16.

She testified the latest argument, stretching over a period of several days, started when her husband took his clothes and left, then repented and returned only to find himself locked out.

Lester sat on the doorstep for hours at a time, leaving each day just in time to make his 3-11 p.m. shift at the mill, the wife testified. As soon as he finished work, he would return to the vigil, occasionally trying to force his way through the bedroom window in the middle of the night, she said.

"Are you two living together?" Solicitor McDonald asked.

"Yes," said the husband

"No," said the wife

Tone Follows Barbara, Says They'll Marry

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 29 (AP)—Still bearing a brand by Tom Neal on his left eye, Franchot Tone arrived in Minneapolis this morning en route to Cloquet, Minn., to join his lady love, Barbara Payton.

Tone told newsmen he was en route to the northern Minnesota city with the intention of marrying Miss Payton, but added he would like to talk to her first before making any definite announcement.

The actor's left eye is still badly bloodshot from blows rained on him by Actor Tom Neal in a brawl Sept. 14 over Miss Payton's love.

Miss Payton arrived in Cloquet Wednesday evening to spend a few days of "quiet" with two maiden aunts living there and her uncle, Frank L. Redfield.

Tone told reporters he has decided to drop plans for court action against Neal.

Probers Will Hear Reporter In Boyle Case

Newsman Asked To Give Senators Basis For His Accusations

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—A newspaper reporter was invited today to tell senators the basis for his accusations that Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle Jr. received $8,000 from a client who got a big government loan.

The reporter is Theodore Link of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, whose articles prompted the Senate inquiry into Boyle's connections with the American Lithofold Corp., a St. Louis printing firm. Link is slated as the last witness in this 13th day of the inquiry.

Arrangements for his voluntary testimony were made only yesterday and the subcommittee said it did not know how early in the day he could be heard.

Boyle told the Senate investigations subcommittee yesterday he collected $1,250 in retainer fees from Lithofold, but that the fees had nothing to do with the government loans. Testimony from Lithofold officials also put his total fees at $1,250.

Senator Hoey (D) of North Carolina, the committee chairman, told the group that testimony so far has not shown Boyle got $8,000 and that the Post-Dispatch has "produced absolutely no evidence" of it, either.

The committee had set out to explore whether Boyle did get $8,000 and whether any fees he received were paid him for helping Lithofold to obtain $565,000 worth of now repaid loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Boyle denied he ever tried to influence the R.F.C. or any other government agency and the senators heard no testimony that he had.

It received testimony that the first of the Lithofold loans was approved three days after Boyle had set up an interview for firm negotiators with Harley Hise, then R.F.C. chairman, Feb. 28, 1949. Boyle said he did not discuss the loan with Hise. He added he often made appointments with government agencies for a variety of persons.

Boyle conceded in testimony yesterday that he was "acting chairman" of the Democratic party at that time, although drawing no salary as its titular ivce chairman under J. Howard McGrath.

Senator Nixon (R) of California, a committee member, told a reporter he intends to see to it that "no newspaper is made the goat of a very beneficial investigation of the operations of influence in the federal government".

He said testimony that Lithofold paid big fees to government em-

Foe Moves More Men Up To Front

Allied Planes Blast Trucks; Fight Rages Near Triangle, Ridge

KOREA, Sept. 28 (AP)—Communist forces launched a series of sharp attacks last night at widely-scattered points across 50 miles of the Korean battlefront.

Behind the lines, they rolled a mass of men and supplies toward the front along all the major north-south roads across the waist of the Korean Peninsula.

They took advantage of a moonless night. But Allied planes converged on the main arteries and the U. S. Fifth Air Force said its pilots destroyed 508 Communist vehicles and damaged 613—a record. The old mark of 964 was set Wednesday.

The roving airmen attacked more than 1,700 trucks from dusk Thursday to dawn Friday, the Fifth Air Force said.

The tempo of Communist troop and transport activity sharpened as efforts to revive the stalled truce talks reached a virtual standstill.

The Communist forces threw their sharpest attacks in the Yonchon and Chorwon sectors near western Korea's iron triangle and in the east-central area at "Heartbreak Ridge" and the punchbowl heights.

The Reds lobbed artillery and mortar shells throughout Thursday night at Allied infantrymen dug in just below the crest of "Heartbreak", a hill mass north of Yanggu.

Other Red tropps attacked American and South Korean troops holding a hill west of the ridge. They had captured it only Tuesday. The fight raged on into the morning.

It appears that the Reds are trying to cut off advance Allied units both in the east and west.

Marine Corsair pilots and B-26 night fliers teamed in the attacks on Red transport behind the lines.

Thirty-five American Saber jets swept "MIG Alley" in northwest Korea for 30 minutes Friday morning, but failed to raise Communist jets.

U. S. Thunderjets struck key rail centers between Kunu and Sinanju. F-80 Shooting Star jets shot up rail yards along the Sinanju-Pyongyang line.

Air Force officers said the heavy destruction of rail facilities inflicted by "Operation Strangle" had forced the Reds to use more truck transport.

Red Huks' No. 2 Man Killed In Philippines

MANILA, Sept. 28 (AP)—Guillermo Capadocia, the Communist Huks' No. 2 leader, was killed today by Philippines troops on Panay Island.

The government had offered a $50,000 reward for him.

The national defense department said an army task force led by Colonel Alfredo M. Ramos battled Capadocia's Huk band in San Remigio Township.

Capadocia, 45, once headed the Communst party in the Philippines.

His death ended an army campaign that occupied 2,000 troops and lasted nearly one year.

The army several months ago removed more than 300 families from the mountainous interior of Panay and destroyed their crops to shut off food supples for the Huk band.

Capadocia was a leftist labor leader before the war. He turned guerrilla during the occupation. He was held in custody for a time after the war by U.S. intelligence agents.

Britain May Ask U.N. Aid In Oil Crisis

Cabinet Expected To Issue Full Statement Today On Its Course

LONDON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Great Britain may ask the United Nations Security Council to intervene in the tense Anglo-Iranian oil dispute, informed sources said today.

The cabinet met on the oil crisis for the third time this week, as this country waited developments in the Middle East country which has ordered British oil men at Abadan expelled by next Thursday.

A likely course for London may be, the informants said, to ask the Security Council to order Iranian obedience to an International Court of Justice recommendation.

The court urged both sides to seek a peaceful settlement of the dispute, which arose from Iran's nationalization of the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. holdings.

A senior British cabinet minister told a reporter the government will issue a full statement tonight on its course of action and its reasons for what decisions were made, but he would not say what the decision was.

A Foreign Office spokesman refused to confirm or deny that Britain will take the dispute to the Security Council.

Said reports from the British mission in Teheran thus far have brought no confirmation of published reports that Iranian authorities physically seized Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. properties in Abadan.

Latest dispatches from Abadan Teheran newspapers said only that a single Iranian officer and one soldier had been posted at the Abadan refinery gates to prevent 70 British administrative and accounting employees from entering.

The dispatches said other Britons will continue to work at the plant until they leave under the Iranian expulsion order by Thursday. A previous Reuters dispatch had said Iranian troops seized complete control, preventing all but 10 Britons from entering. The plant, largest in the world, actually has been under military guard for months.

British government chiefs have told Sir Francis Shepherd, the ambassador in Teheran, to report on Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's reaction to an appeal by President Truman to Iran to reverse its expulsion order.

A British call for U.N. help would suggest that the Labor government had given up hope that either Iran's shah or the premier would cancel the order to the remaining Britons to get out.

It also would indicate that the Britons would leave Abadan before the deadline, rather than attempt to stay through the use of force.

The United States has told the British it is not prepared to support the use of British troops to hold Britain's position at Abadan.

King Nearly Out Of Danger

George Maintains His Steady Progress

LONDON, Sept. 28 (AP) — King George spent another comfortable night and maintained steady progress, a medical bulletin said today.

It was the second optimistic bulletin in a row from the doctors who handled the king's critical lung operation Sunday.

Barring unforseen complications, the king is now nearly out of danger, some medical specialists indicated.

Both medical men and the British people interpret these signs as indicating the king is doing well:

1.—Princess Elizabeth and her Duke of Edinburgh decided yesterday to go ahead with their 34-day tour of Canada, postponed from Oct. 2. They will leave by plane for Montreal Oct. 7.

2.—The palace announced the king himself was able to sign a warrant appointing a council of state to act for him during the long period of his recovery. The council includes Queen Elizabeth, Princess Elizabeth, Princess Margaret, the king's brother, the Duke of Glouchester, and his sister Mary, the princess royal.

3.—Princess Elizabeth went to the horse races at Ascot Thursday—hardly the right move for strait-laced British royalty unless the king is getting better.

Conservative Bid Launched By Churchill

Lays Down 7-Point Program Party Will Follow If Returned

LONDON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Winston Churchill called upon Great Britain today to free itself of socialism in order to rebuild its life at home and its prestige abroad.

In a 2,500-word Conservative party manifesto, the 76-year-old wartime prime minister asserted the Oct. 25 general election "may well be the turning point in the fortunes and even life of Britain".

"There must be no illusions about our difficulties and dangers," he declared.

Churchill demanded an end to class warfare and a growth in national unity. He blamed the "frantic extravagances" of the Labor government for devaluation of the pound from $4.02 to $2.80 on Sept. 18, 1949.

Churchill laid down these main points his party will seek to carry out if returned to power:

1.—"The Conservative aim is to increase our national output. Here is the surest way to keep our people fully employed, to halt the rising cost of living and to preserve our social services."

2.—Complete the 4,700,000,000-pound ($13,160,000,000) three-year rearmament program started by the Labor government, adding: "We believe, however, that far better value could be got for the immense manpower and sums of money which are involved."

3.—Impose an excess profits tax during the defense emergency.

4.—Stop all further nationalization of industry.

5.—Return the iron and steel industry nationalized early this year to its former owners.

6.—Decentralize the nationalized rail and road transport and coal industries and give private freight trucking firms a chance to return to business.

7.—Strengthen the monopolies commission to reduce "to the minimum possible all restrictive practices on both sides of industry", including the nationalized industries.

The Conservatives also want to give home building a priority second only to defense, with a target of 300,000 houses a year, and provide better education and health services for the money now being spent upon them.

100,000 Allied Troops Begin Drills On Rhine

NEUSTADT, Germany, Sept. 28 (AP)—More than 100,000 Allied troops under French direction kicked off early today on a joint ground-air training assault against "enemy" troops on the east bank of the Rhine.

Under aerial support representing eight Atlantic pact nations, the ground troops of three nations—France, America and Holland—moved out to cross the Rhine on pontoon bridges and in assault boats.

South of Heidelberg, French air-borne troops were readied to jump from U. S. Air Force planes in a practice aerial assault as a part of the three-day mock battle.

Long Strike Near End

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 28 (AP)—Hopes appear high today that 22,000 strikers at the Caterpillar Tractor Co. will ratify an agreement ending their long and costly strike and return to their jobs Monday. The agreement calls for a 13½-cent hourly general wage increase and a cost-of-living adjustment to be made Feb. 1, 1952.

Civil War Reported In Argentina

Stage Of Siege Set; Labor Group Rallies To President's Aid

BULLETIN

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 28 (AP)—The state radio announced today that a revolt against President Juan D. Peron has failed.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 28 (AP)—The state radio announced today that civil war has started in Argentina.

The General Confederation of Labor announced in a broadcast that some military men have launched a revolt against the government of Juan D. Peron. It called for a nationwide general strike in support of the president.

At frequent intervals the official state radio repeated this announcement from the presidential press office:

"A state of internal war exists. "Army officers taking part will be shot."

The labor confederation is the backbone of Peron's government.

The broadcast warned that any military men joining in the uprising will be executed. A state of siege—a modified form of martial law—was proclaimed, the broadcast said.

Within minutes after the broadcast, a crowd began to assemble in front of the huge Plaza Mayo balcony from which Peron frequently has spoken to his supporters in the more than five years of his reign.

Workers were urgently exhorted to assemble in the square, in front of the president's Casa Rosada offices.

The broadcast came after handbills with revolutionary messages were dropped over the business district of the capital by low-flying planes.

Only yesterday Peron announced that the army would police the forthcoming national elections in which he has been named a candidate to succeed himself.

There have been rumors for some time that an army coup was in the making against Peron, who himself became the strong man of Argentina on the coattails of a coup.

In August of this year the executive council of the government-controlled labor confederation urged Peron to stand as presidential candidate, with his wife, Eva Duarte Peron, as the vice-presidential candidate.

There apparently was opposition in the army to Mrs. Peron. A series of rumblings arose against what was called Eva's "petticoat dictatorship". She later turned down the invitation to run for vice-president, in a tearful withdrawal.

In Washington, the Argentine embassy said it had no information on the reported revolt.

The Argentine elections are scheduled Nov. 11.

Valley To Get Frost Tonight

Chilly Weather To Continue Saturday

Scattered light frost—the first for the season for the Ohio Valley—is forecast tonight in an early Autumn cold snap that has spread over the Northern two-thirds of the country.

Rural sections of Columbiana County had a mild frost a couple of weeks ago but tonight's, if it materializes, will be the first for the river district. Saturday will be fair but continued cool.

According to L. H. Copeland's records, the county usually gets its first killing frost about Oct. 4—next Thursday.

The Millport weather observer reported an overnight low of 36 degrees—6 above freezing. His station registered light frost about Sept. 7, the earliest in years.

Temperatures will be lower tonight than the 44 registered at Dam 8 between 5 and 7 a. m. today. The high since noon yesterday was 74. The highest today is expected to be 62.

The cool belt extended from the Rockey Mountains to the Appalachians Southward to the Southern Plains and Middle Mississippi Valley. It was 22 above in Bismarck and Dickinson, N. D., and 24 above in Huron and Aberdeen, S. D.

F. A. Cuffaro Named Wellsville Plumber

Frank C. Cuffaro, 1307 Commerce St., was appointed Wellsville city plumber today by Mayor C. C. Leatherberry following Civil Service Commission examination Wednesday night.

A Crucible Steel Co. employee at Midland, he will fill the vacancy created by the death of John Wilkinson early last summer. Cuffaro was one of three who took a similar exam last month when all failed.

Two took the exam held again Wednesday, according to William Shoub, secretary of the commission.

Cuffaro is married and the father of two daughters.

Rates For Parcel Post Will Be Raised Monday

Like everything else, the cost of sending parcel post packages is going to increase.

New rates graduated according to zone will go into effect Monday, Postmaster Ralph C. Benedum said today.

Local potteries and business places will be affected most, but it's also going to cost more to send packages to servicemen overseas.

No change has been made in the size and weight limitations. The package cannot exceed 100 inches in length and girth combined and must weigh at least 8 ounces and not more than 70 pounds.

Packages destined for post offices in Zones 1 and 2, which cover offices within a radius of 150 miles, now will cost 17 cents for the first pound and 2.4 cents for each extra pound. They now can be mailed for 12 cents.

Sending packages to Zone 8, which includes the Pacific Coast and all other destinations over 1,800 miles, may cost up to $1.47 more if the weight limit is reached.

The cost for the first pound for packages in that zone will be 27 cents, compared to the old price of 18 cents. Each additional pound will cost 14 cents, about 2 cents more than at present.

Even so, the new rates will be lower than express rates, Benedum declared. Local parcel post business picked up considerably when express companies hiked their rates about two years ago.

Meek 'Wolf' Fined $10 For Auto's 'Whistle'

A very meek "wolf" turned up in Judge George L. Brokaw's Municipal Court today, but instead of growling, he said: "Guilty".

Police accused young Floyd Edward Johnson of Dresden Ave. of using a "wolf whistle" on his car, emitting a wailing crescendo that goes from bass to falsetto.

The judge explained that state law forbids whistles or sirens of any kind, except on emergency vehicles like fire trucks and ambulances. Then he fined the youth $10 and costs.

$17,000 Fire Razes House

Family Of 4 Flees Blaze At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE, Sept. 28 (Special) —A $17,000 blaze Thursday about 10 p. m. destroyed the Joseph Hazelwood home and garage-apartment on the East Palestine-New Waterford back road, about half a mile from the city limits.

Fire Chief Glen Libert said the fire apparently started in a furnace room at the garage and, fed by stored grease, oil and gasoline and whipped by high winds, spread to the two-story frame house 12 feet away.

He estimated the loss at $5,000 for the garage-apartment, including a 1940 Chrysler, and $12,000 to the large home, which was gutted.

The apartment was occupied by Hazelwood's son, Glenn Hazlewood, and family. They were not at home at the time.

Joseph Hazelwood and his wife and two children fled the home after he noticed the blaze. Some first-floor furniture was saved.

Part of the loss is insured, he said.

Thirty members of the Volunteer Fire Department battled the blaze with water from its two trucks. The city lake is nearby, but was out of reach of hose. The Grim Welding Co. furnished a tank truck which made several trips with water, but firemen were unable to save the structures as a high North wind whipped the flames.

Hazelwood, the property owner, operated an auto repair service in the garage. He also does strip mining.

The son recently purchased new furnishings for the apartment, which helped raise the loss estimate.

Firemen were at the scene for three hours. The home was gutted inside, but did not burn down.

Volunteers Needed For Civil Defense Units

More volunteers are needed to bolster the East Liverpool Civil Defense program, Thomas W. Eason, director, declared today.

About 80 are needed to complete the Auxiliary Police and Fire Departments and others are needed to serve as precinct and block air raid wardens.

Each of the auxiliary Fire and Police Departments will be comprised of about 150 persons. Training under Police Chief L. J. Wise and Fire Chief Charles Bryan will be started as soon as the required number is reached, Eason said.

The training of the aid raid wardens is approximately 70 per cent completed, he added.

Eason singled out the First Ward as being in "excellent" shape. Only 17 block wardens still haven't finished their training, he said, and it is the largest ward under the CD setup.

Signs To Be Erected

More Surveys Requested In School Safety Program

The Columbiana County Motor Club intensified its school safety program today with more districts added for a survey of traffic warnings and plans to step up the formation of patrol boy units.

Bob Campbell, seevice director, said two more schools have asked surveys similar to the one held in East Liverpool at the request of Superintendent R. W. Betts.

The city's survey, made jointly by the auto club and the Police Department, was completed Thursday with inspection of the Glenmoor and La Croft districts next.

Campbell said six schools were found to lack speed warning signs in their vicinity, several are protected by traffic lights closeby and a couple are situated on dead-end streets that do not have a traffic danger.

School authorities at West Point and at Hillcrest near Wellsville have asked for surveys. As soon as this phase is completed, Campbell will go to New Philadelphia, probably early next week, to pick out appropriate signs from the stock in the Division 11 Highway Department's garage.

The department invited him to help himself and the state's crew in the county will erect the signs outside the municipalities. Police Chief L. J. Wise will have the signs in the city school areas that now lack them.

Later on, as school groups get organized for the new term, Campbell and Lieutenant John Russell will appear before them and urge that school safety patrols be set up. Most have them, usually under school association sponsorship.

Chief Wise assigned Lieutenant Russell to the school safety program and he will train the patrols in handling traffic to protect the children.

A goal of $1,500 has been set in the current magazine sale at Chester High School with proceeds slated to complete payment for a new electric scoreboard at the football field.

The campaign opened Wednesday and will continue through Oct. 9. Miss Noreen Bennett is serving for the second year as student manager.

Her assistant is Miss Mary Lou Owens. Homeroom captains are: Joe Delekta, Harry Comm, Natalie Shaw, Virginia Stoy, Jean Johnston, Judy Neff, Jeris Henderson, Donna K. Howard, Loretta Duffy, Ruth Ann Martin and Cynthia McHenry.

Sales so far have totaled $350, with Room 202 in the lead.

The scoreboard purchase orgiin the Spring on the assumption this Fall's magazine sale proceeds would complete the price.

Purchase of the $1,800 score indicator was authorized by the Student Council. Besides magazine sale profits, funds were secured from the annual school carnival and a treasury balance.

The scoreboard is being installed this week, and may be ready for use Saturday at the Chester-New Cumberland game. If not, it will be unveiled at the Chester-Newell game Oct. 13.

At tomorrow's game, a flag donated to the High School by Pride of Valley Council, D. of A., will be displayed.

The scoreboerd purchase originally was set up as a three-year project by last year's Student Council, but may be completed in two if this year's magazine sale proves successful.

No, Thanks

It is conceivable that Britain's socialist government might involve the United States in a Middle Eastern war because socialists in Iran have taken over British oil-refining properties.

But on the face of it, the proposition of drifting into war because Iranians want to kill the goose that lays their golden eggs is no more attractive than the prospect of using high explosives to recover the properties of the English mine owners relieved of responsibility by the Attlee ministry.

Or to bring the matter closer to American experience, it is no more attractive than the prospect of organizing an expeditionary force to Mexico to win back the lost rights of the oil companies which were kicked out when socialists moved in down there.

It can be demonstrated with arithmetic that the Iranians are stupid to force out British; they have more to lose than to gain, in the form of income from the sale of oil. But it cannot be demonstrated with arithmetic or anything else that the Iranians, or whoever has the authority to be acting in their behalf, are committing an international crime. Included in the right of sovereignty is the right to be stupid—and it has been exercised freely by all nations.

Always Burned, Always Shy

President Truman says his new executive order for classifying and protecting security information in all departments will not be used to gag the press.

Spokesmen for the press say it will be used that way. Their reason for saying so is that such orders always have been used that way. Whether they come from the chief executive of the United States, or some local functionary trying to button up loose lips, orders to clamp down on certain kinds of information invariably are broadened to cover other kinds of information.

That is the way it works, Mr. President.

There is nothing harder to get along with than a public functionary who has been given an excuse to throw his weight around, especially if there's "secret stuff" involved. Every newspaperman who ever biddogged his daily bread has snubbed his nose for news on this sort of thing. That is why there is so much excitement over the presidential order to follow State and Defense Department plans for controlling security information.

From the presidential point of view, the order no doubt is necessary. From the point of view of people who try to keep the public informed about what their government is doing, it opens the door to all the incredible nonsense and fatheadedness built into the federal bureaucracy.

Never Will Be Revealed

In a significant dispatch about an electric power shortage in the Pacific Northwest, it is acknowledged that no one in authority has any idea what to do about it, except wait for rain.

Meanwhile, an official order has gone out from Washington, D.C., to aluminum plants in the drouth area. They are told to keep the defense mobilizer posted on where they might move to if the power shortage continues. It is not revealed, where this might be.

It never will be revealed, of course, because this is the catch in the federal government's fabulously costly project of wiping out state sovereignty with "valley projects" which are made palatable to voters with the promise of cheap electric power.

It never is revealed that the power is cheap only because it is generated with equipment paid for by taxes, that it stays cheap because the deficits are covered by taxes; that only the government can go into the power business on a basis which gives customers no assurance of a continuous flow of electricity. But a drouth in the Columbia River valley can reveal the whole arrangement.

Footnote On A Scoreboard

This country's bad habit of losing track of issues because something new is always happening has taken some of the punch out of the Senate judiciary committee's decision in the Illinois judgeship case.

When the committee refused to accept President Truman's nominations of Cornelius J. Harrington and Joseph H. Drucker to be federal district judges, it registered a significant victory for Senator Paul H. Douglas. The senator, who had recommended two other candidates for the judgeships, said Mr. Truman's nominations were personally obnoxious to him.

Final settlement of the issue now waits on Mr. Truman. Either he must appoint the men favored by Senator Douglas, or continue to fight it out.

In Washington, in Illinois and elsewhere in the country, the underlying issue of politics is whether or not an executive-minded government shall be permitted, even encouraged, to ride roughshod over all other rights and perogatives. Among these is the peregative of a U.S. senator to have something to say about presidential appointments in his state.

Behind The News

By George Sokolsky

They're Making A Mockery Of The Courts

Manners are the exterior manifestation of morals. When the manners of a people are debased, it needs to look after its morals.

In our courts and before various semi-judicial investigations, a disrespect for the dignity of the courts and the law is being displayed which would be intolerable anywhere, but more so among a free people whose order of life is controlled by a voluntary acceptance of law.

In a despotism, it is possible to say: "Off with his head!" And off it goes.

In a free society rigorous protections are placed about the individual to safeguard him against tyrannical and whimsical acts of public officials.

But the citizen can only safeguard his liberties and protections if he practices self-restraint, if he is respectful and decent, if he recognizes that while all are equal before the law, none may be contemptuous of it.

THE 11 COMMUNISTS who appeared in Judge Medina's court and acted like hoodlums set a bad example, to be followed with vulgar impudence by Harry Gross in Judge Leibowitz' court in Brooklyn, and before the New York state crime commission.

Gross made a mockery of a court, making it obvious that increasingly those who live on the margins of society have become so bold that they respect nothing—not the law, not the courts, not the dignity of judges.

Criminals always have existed. But such men, in the past, lived in fear of being caught. They were bold and brazen until they faced stern justice and knew the majesty of the law, as evidenced in a court.

The new breed of hoodlums, having no morals and believing that all men are corruptible, look upon our courts as market places and upon judges as current or potential crooks.

Their only problem seems to be to find the right politician who will know how to bribe the particular judge.

I have been told by lawyers that there has been a notable falling away of good manners in the courts, that not only laymen but many lawyers act impudently in the courts, flouting the judges, and giving the impression of familiarity, which is the first sign of contempt.

I also have been told by lawyers that some judges tend to be lenient because they recognize that the lawyer is trying to impress his client that he is earning his fee. When judges are lax and lawyers forgetful of their manners, it must be accepted that a debasement of morals has set in.

The manners and morals of a people are set at the top. What is propriety is determined by the style of those in authority and position.

When the leaders of a nation are vulgar, indecent in manners and morals, when their language is cheap and blasphemous, when they associate with petty crooks and political panhandlers, when they themselves grow rich in public office or tolerate abuses among those who are close to them—the style of corruption will have been set.

HARRY GROSS and Mike Dalessio are no different from the gamblers who refused to testify or even to open their mouths before the Kefauver committee, or from those who, by consent, perjure themselves in divorce cases, or who steal in connection with the R.F.C. or who go through a red light on the road, imperiling other human beings.

These are responses to the same lack of self-discipline. And it goes as high or low as you like in American life today.

I noticed, traveling the roads this Summer in an automobile, the disregard of drivers for traffic regulations, particularly the drivers of big and heavy trucks who are fast pushing the taxpaying citizen off the road.

Naturally, it is impossible to police all the roads of this country all the time, but we must assume in a free society that men will restrain themselves, police themselves.

It must be assumed, in a free society, that the police are to be called in unusually, that citizens, recognizing the law as a majestic keystone in the arch of social existence, will obey it without police action.

In a moral society, such self-discipline can be depended upon. It is handed down from father to son as the decent way to live. It used to be called manners and those who failed them were ostracized by clean-living people.

But when a Mickey Cohen is pitied as a product of his environment, we are dealing not with manners, morals or justice, but with social corruption.

Inside On Labor

By Victor Riesel

This is John Lewis' political obituary.

He overplayed his hand again, and this time he's being dealt out of the game by men who no longer tremble when he roars, but snicker instead.

This last game he played cost him about $250,000 in the last few months—and almost $750,000 in the last few years.

Time for writing Lewis' political obituary came at 11 a. m. on the last day of the A.F.L.'s annual convention in San Francisco.

Powerful federation leaders revealed that within a few weeks they quietly would contact the C.I.O. and ask it to merge with the A.F.L. despite previous bitterness and name calling.

It had been expected that Lewis' mine workers would be asked to join at the same time. But Brother Lewis was one man who got under the skins of the A.F.L. chiefs.

JUST AS they were writing their invitation to him to come in the other day, they received reports that he was negotiating secretly for a bid from the C.I.O.; was encouraged through free-spending agents' Communist use of his name as a national bogeyman, and still was having his people keep in direct telephonic touch with convention policy makers at San Francisco.

Typical of his operation was the action of a small band of men who slipped into the convention hall early one morning and left on all tables a costly, 16-page booklet featuring the Great Mane on the front page as "Mr. Organized Labor".

It was then learned that John L. had financed this three-faced operation with a special war-of-nerves fund totaling $250,000.

This was being spent by an undercover staff of at least 50 men stretching from Washington to Detroit to this bay area. This should be added to the annual $250,000 publicity campaign he's been running for several years.

Furthermore, the A.F.L. leaders are disturbed by the cynical manner in which Lewis' men are repeating their old tactics of early C.I.O. days—the use of pro-Commies to needle the respectable labor leaders.

In the words of one of the federation's top strategists:

"John Lewis is a 'has been'. He has influence only in the coal fields. Even there he's got his own troubles. Nobody needs him any longer. If he wants to waste the coal-diggers' money playing puerile politics, that's their business. We wouldn't waste our members' money just to satisfy our egos."

Reference to trouble in the coal fields followed reports that "Old John" has been frightened by the terrific tonnage coming out of non-union mines—at least 25 million tons from Pennsylvania alone.

Lewis is so pressed for manpower in his drive to beat back this competition that he has ordered the retired $100-a-month miners to picket if they want their pensions assured.

So the A.F.L. policymakers, having little time for Shakespearean research and being too devout to desecrate their Bible by pulling David phrases to hurl at the old Philistine, simply ignored him. Their bid to the C.I.O. was friendly:

"Fully mindful of our special responsibility as the parent and the predominant organization of American labor, especially in this hour of crisis, the A.F.L. will welcome the C.I.O. to unite organically with the A.F.L. In this sense, we propose to empower the incoming executive council to implement this declaration of policy to the end that organic unification of American labor soon may be realized as an achievement of and for our labor movement, our nation, and the entire international free trade union movement," the convention said.

HOWEVER, there seems to be little hope for agreement on anything more than the isolation of old triple threat John. There is an authoritative source for all this, an intimate and trusted friend of the C.I.O. chief, the man who is proud of being called the labor priest of Pittsburgh's skid row.

He is Father Charles Rice, who wrote the other day: "The C.I.O. is now an American institution and it is not Murray's intention that it should fade away.

"Organic unity with the A.F.L. is hardly possible because the C.I.O. has so many substantial interests of its own. There is a large staff; there is the network of state and municipal councils; there is a hefty bank balance and an effective Washington office, among other things, and nearly five million members."

So there will be several houses of labor and John L. Lewis will find their back doors locked. If he's got anything to sell from now on, he comes through the front gate with the other peddlers.

Full Blast

Things Aren't What They Seem

By David Lawrence

It's a curious commentary on the handling of tax legislation that whenever a revenue bill is under consideration the "left wing" is found striving for higher and higher excess profits tax rates.

The assumption is that this is a means of soaking "big business". And presumably the "left wing" is the friend of little business.

Actually it works out just the other way. Nearly every excess profits tax law enacted under the various Democratic administrations has been of major assistance to the well-entrenched companies and has dealt a severe blow to the smaller competitors.

—:—

IF THE system of "free enterprise" in America means the removal of unfair competition, then the "left wing" has followed a consistent pattern over the years designed to help the monopolies and the larger businesses.

These big institutions usually have a better "base period" for computing excess profits than the smaller ones. Also they have large reserves. When the smaller companies are able to make a little money during prosperous periods, the government takes most of it away from them.

As a consequence, when the prosperity ends and deflation begins, these smaller companies usually have not accumulated sufficient reserves to meet the change in economic conditions.

During the last war, Congress definitely took care of "postwar" deflation. Provisions were inserted in the law allowing refunds to companies that might suffer severe losses in postwar years.

No such provisions permitting refunds are in the new law. In the present period of tension there is no "postwar" period in sight.

Hence, in case of a sudden deflation, the companies that started up in the last few years and have begun to obtain a fairly substantial part of the total volume of business done in a particular industry will find themselves in financial difficulties.

Extensive unemployment may result from their failures and in many cases they will be swallowed up in forced mergers with large companies.

To maintain high-level employment it will be necessary to look ahead to the period of deflation that may come in 1953 when the present armament program tapers off.

It will be much more expensive then to finance, by means of grants and loans, new work projects of the WPA variety than to protect new businesses now.

This is the time to be thinking of what happens when the present period of tension undergoes a change, as might occur if there is an overthrow of a government in any of the satellite countries and it begins to be apparent that Soviet imperialism is weakening.

It is one of the unexplained factors of present-day legislation that labor leaders whose workers have the most to lose from unemployment are the very ones who are pressing Congress to raise the excess profits rates virtually to the point of confiscation.

THE RATES in the proposed law about to be enacted are higher than anything encountered in either World War One or World War Two.

Not only have the regular corporation tax rates been raised to a point far beyond any other rate of its kind heretofore but the excess profits rate combined with the regular corporate rates will exceed in severity the rates in effect from 1941 to 1945.

Labor leaders may have the idea that if the rates are high enough employers will diminish their resistance to wage increases and forge benefits.

This may be true of the so-called monopolies, but it is not true of the marginal competitors which are trying during the present boom to get a foothold in their respective industries.

There is, of course, back of this pressure for high rates an effort to squeeze every dollar possible in the mistaken belief that this will avoid for Congress the necessity next year of taxing the lower incomes.

But even if 100 per cent of the income of individuals earning more than $10,000 a year were confiscated in taxes, the federal government would still be operating at a huge deficit. Taxes rapidly are approaching the saturation point.

What the new tax rates may do to incentive is something to which little thought is usually given by the "left wingers", some of whose ideas of a "planned economy" include government ownership, nationalization and forms of state socialism if the economic situation should become chaotic.

The responsibility of the "left wingers", however, for bringing on such a period of chaos in a democracy is not always clear when the catastrophe has happened.

Hence what is taking place in the Senate these days in connection with the pressure for higher and higher excess profits taxes is more significant, ideologically speaking, than appears to meet the eye.

But No Pelican

By Truman Twill

The idea of adding a pelican to our establishment, which an office wag has been trying to sell us, has no merit. It is not disputed that the pelican is an interesting fowl with brilliant virtues, such as being kind to its mother and father. But it wouldn't fit into the over-all plan of our establishment.

This consists in the main of an open-door policy, with everything entitled to one free admission pending investigation. Thus, the Twillery goat was given the benefit of hospitality until his welcome was worn out.

It was the same with the one and only pig ever to gain admission to the precincts. Nothing was said against this excellent visitor until he had mired himself in his own untidiness, then he was urged to go away to cooking school, which he did.

In the past, as in the future, the basic requirement is compatibility. Everybody must either get along in harmony or learn.

Take the Twillery dogs, for example. They had to learn not to chase sheep, ducks, tame rabbits, chickens and the neighborhood cows. They did, except for the rabbit. He did not catch on fast enough and made the supreme sacrifice.

The harmonious relations between cats and dogs is proverbial in R.F.D. The cats cannot get anywhere by running away, so they hook a claw into the nose of the first mutt that gets snoopy. That takes care of that. Even chickens learn to command respect, also to show it.

Everybody is compatible now, except for the goat, and he is persona non grata with the people—a situation that must be straightened out.

The goat can be sent on a mission to China, appointed to the Supreme Court, or sent away to school—standard methods of assuring compatility.

But no pelican, thanks. A zebra, a kangaroo, a snowy owl, an anteater, a platypus, or an internal revenue agent—but no pelican. That would be too big a mouth to feed.

To serve a different kind of party cake, bake the cake in a ring mold. Frost it with a butter frosting.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

How About A Score Card?

Can we help it if we are a little confused by so many probes in so many places?

Q.—Now then, did you see Joe Boyle with the police captain at the Harry Olson meeting with Deedee Gross and was that at the R.F.C. offices on Staten Island?

A.—I don't remember the names, but the cameras and hams are familiar.

Q.—Let me refresh your recollection. Didn't you tell the grand jury that you spent a week at Camp Lithofold in New Jersey as the guest of McRappell, while the loan to the Turkey Gift Package Corp. by the former mayor was under consideration?

A.—Was that before they went to the Atlantic City track or after the proposal to unseat the senator was made?

Q.—I am talking about the time when Pete Siskind fell or jumped out of the Coney Island hotel window during the period when Mickey denied he ever saw Mrs. Wentworth. Now will you please answer my question?

—:—

A.—YES, NOW THAT you have made it clear. I thought you were referring to the package-store license and the purchase of the Wild Acres saloon previous to the printing contracts.

Q.—Will you proceed?

A.—Certainly. Finnegan wasn't there at all, but I remember hearing somebody mention Mr. Fethmessel.

Q.—You mean Messthethel, do you not?

A.—He was referred to as Sethmessel, but have it your way. This Methseffel was mentioned, but I saw no turkeys presented to anybody.

Q.—When Grossfessel came in were any gifts presented?

A.—Just a mink-lined case of Scotch and a 10-pound camera known as Abadan.

Q.—What about the television set from the district campaign headquarters?

A.—It only weighed 11 pounds. I don't consider a television set a television set unless it goes to 12 or 14 pounds, 5 ounces and waives examination.

Q.—Was anything said about a mental examination for the chairman so he could evade testimony on the safety deposit box taken in the name of the Hotel Dalessio, the four printing companies and Abe Reles?

—:—

A.—NO, BUT HE said they should unseat the senator unless the tax returns could be examined to show how a Brooklyn police inspector could buy a 325-acre New Jersey estate right across from the station house on Staten Island where the bets were being accepted.

Q.—When you said "he said", whom do you mean?

A.—I think it was a feller known as Staten Mossedagh who had two brothers removed by the governor and a neutral outsider appointed in their place so that there would be no charge of frame-up or corruption if Brooklyn won. But I have decided not to answer any more questions.

Q.—What do you mean?

A.—I am clamming up.

Q.—You can't do that to us. We are a Senate committee investigating Hollywood by authority of the Interstate Kefauver Commission in charge of water-front racket exposures and we are going to clean up Saratoga no matter who silenced Gross on the R.F.C. loans to Virginia Ham.

Kiwanis Hears How It Works

Hays Sees Socialism Edging Into U.S.

"Socialism is insinuating itself in our system, and it's up to us as individuals to combat it." Robert H. Hays, president of Hays Motors Inc., told Kiwanians Thursday.

Speaking at the Travelers Hotel, Hays placed himself in the position of a socialist and told the club just how the movement can take over the nation.

"I'm going to sell you on the idea of socialism, and it won't be much trouble because you've had several injections over the past 15 years.

"To begin with, there are three pieces of legislation we must have to get socialism across, but we can't call it socialism because people won't vote for it," Hays suggested.

"And we must be patient—exercise a waiting program. After all, Britain has socialism now, but it was 50 years in the making.

—:—

"FIRST we must have the Brannan plan. That's where the farmer will get more money for his products, and the consumer will pay less.

"Of course, there are faults in the plan, like the probability that the consumer and farmer are the same person—the taxpayer, who will have to make up the subsidies—but we can get around that.

"Then we need socialized medicine. We don't call it that. We call it national health insurance. But we need it.

"And controls," Hays continued. "We must have controls to get socialism across.

"If there's a deflation, we must have controls to inflate. If there's inflation, we need controls to deflate.

"But, if there is a war, we're in business. Then we can get controls on everything. If anybody objects, all we have to do is call them a warmonger or pacifist and we can shout them down.

—:—

"ANOTHER NEED is federal aid to education," he added.

It, the Brannan plan and national health insurance were kicked out by the 81st Congress, but "be patient, they're not done," Hays said. "We'll get them eventually."

"Look at Truman's 1951-51 fiscal budget for $71 billion and you'll see $295 million in federal aid to education and another $150 million for the Brannan plan, under a different name.

"We must have bigger and bigger and bigger business and fewer and smaller individuals," Hays told the club, which is comprised of business and professional men.

"Another way to win the socialistic programs is to help along the problem of inflation.

"Inflation brought Hitler and his National Socialist party to power in Germany.

"Inflation defeated Republican Italy and brought on Mussolini.

"Inflation brought China to its knees.

"Inflation bought the rapid turnover in French cabinets.

"And who causes inflation?" the speaker queried.

"The government says it gives us controls to hold inflation, but on the other hand government causes inflation.

"All these things we must accomplish to get control of the government.

—:—

"THE GOVERNMENT must be in business to be socialistic," he continued, "and it is now. It holds mortgages on homes, auto plants, news services. It owns steamship lines, news services and radio stations.

"And the government gets into business very easily.

"For instance, in 1938 the Dollar Steamship Lines, because of Communist-inspired dock strikes, and because the government withdrew its mail contract and subsidies, faced bankruptcy.

"So the government took over, immediately reinstated the mail contract, restored subsidies, and changed the name to the Presidential Line.

"War came and the line prospered. After the battles were over, the Dollar line asked back its ships. The government said no. Bitter court battles began in 1945, and still are in progress.

"The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered the line returned to its owners, but the government still has the line—run by politicians.

"As socialists, the more confused the government becomes, the better off we are.

"I'm not a Socialist," Hays declared, "but I may end up one, and so might a lot of other people."

—:—

THE ANSWERS to the problem are several, Hays concluded.

"We must put ourself in the place of these planners and try to see what they have in mind.

"We must ferret them out and expose them.

"We must do a good job ourselves. Socialism starts in our own backyard with some disgruntled employee, some fuzzy-wuzzy thinker.

"Each of us has a moral duty in our community, our state, and our nation. If we continue to put it aside, we'll have socialism!"

Preston Howard was program chairman. The speaker was introduced by Ben Werner.

Some Schools Show Increase

Ohio College Enrollment May Not Drop As Feared

By United Press

Indications are that enrollment in Ohio colleges and universities this year is going to be higher than normal instead of falling as had been predicted.

College officials had expected a 10 per cent decline because of the uncertainties of the draft on high school graduates and the decline in the number of veterans enrolling.

However, early registration in four colleges showed increases and officials at Ohio State University said enrollment there will be about 18,000.

Ohio State freshmen and new students are undergoing an orientation program this week. The returning students will begin classes Tuesday.

The largest freshman class in Ohio Wesleyan's 109-year history has boosted the total enrollment to 1,933, which is about 3 per cent below the total for last year. A 10 per cent drop was predicted for colleges in general for this Fall.

Mt. Union has the second-largest freshman class in history. Seven hundred ninety-four students are enrolled this semester, a 5 per cent increase over the second semester of last year.

At Bowling Green, John W. Bunn, admissions director, estimated enrollment at 3,400. Actual registration figures showed he had underestimated the total by only 13 students.

Enrollment at Kenyon reached nearly 500 yesterday, while Bexley Hall, the graduate divinity school, totaled a record-breaking 60.

Meanwhile, at Marietta it was announced that Lloyd E. Devol, associate professor of economics, has been appointed acting chairman of the Department of Economics and Business Administration. He replaces Dr. Karl M. Scott, who resigned last Spring.

'GIVE A GUY A BREAK.' The best laid plans of mice and men, as the poet said, don't always work out. And he might have had a mouse like this in mind when he said it. The tiny rodent got trapped in a bottle when he tried to get at a residue of sweet drink left in it at Miami. He was found by Jene Hampton, a garage mechanic, who sympathized with the mouse and turned it loose.

82nd Congress Rates As Most Inquisitive

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The 82nd Congress may not go down in history as one of the lawmaking-ist, but it bids fair to be remembered as the most inquisitive.

Representative Scott (R) of Pennsylvania, former chairman of the Republican national committee, made a survey and came up today with these figures:

Laws passed, 104; investigations conducted, 130.

Scott put the figures in a weekly newsletter he sends to his Philadelphia constituents. The 82nd Congress has another year to run.

PTA Hears Talk On 5-Mill Levy

The proposed 5-mill levy for operating expenses of the Yellow Creek School District, which will be on the November ballot, was explained by Paul Talbot at the meeting of the Fairview-Hillcrest Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday night.

The group approved support of the levy and will have handbills to distribute in each mail box. Phillip Runyon gave a talk on the safety patrol and announced that the Columbiana County Motor Club had sent banners and raincoats for the boys.

Mrs. Ruth Fitzsimmons, president, was in charge and Mrs Minnie Henry presented the following program:

Devotions, Gretchen Nile; Scripture: Matt 5, Lord's Prayer and Allegiance to the Flag, audience; song "America", Ruth McDevitt and Dolores Fryman and audience; trumpet solo, Billy Miller; piano solo, Janet Fitzsimmons, and accordion solos, Edward Henry.

The sum of $121.16 was reported in the treasury and the association decided to have a Halloween party in October for the children and a carnival in November.

The attendance banner was won by the second grade. Lunch was served by homeroom mothers. The next meeting will be Oct. 24.

Move For Time Vote Thrown Out At Canton

CANTON, Sept. 28 (Special)—An effort to put daylight savings time to a vote in the November election here has failed.

Auditor T. F. Snyder reported yesterday that petitions to bring the issue before the electorate lacked about 850 of the required 5,116 signatures.

Circulators of the petions said they thought only 3,760 signers were needed. No time remains to add names needed to bring the total up to 10 per cent of the last mayoralty election vote.

Canton remained on eastern standard time throughout the Summer.

Man-Made Rain Sought To Help Dry Northwest

YAKIMA, Wash., Sept. 28 (AP)—The Pacific Northwest's brown-out-threatened and parched lands may get some help from man-made rain in the near future.

The promise is implied in activity already under way by professional rainmakers, who have set up giant generators for cloud-seeding purposes, hoping to squeeze the rain from the rolling clouds above the giant Columbia basin.

The project is being financed by the Bonneville Power Administration, an agency of the Interior Department.

Bonneville has signed a $59,000 contract with the Water Resources Development Corp. of Denver. This company specializes in a treatment which milks rain from the clouds which are seeded with silver iodide from the generators on the ground.

The purpose is to relieve drought-drained rivers which have reduced the power output to defense-vital aluminum plants to a critical stage.

Southeast Ohio Areas Suggested For Plants

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The area around Zanesville, Cambridge and Marietta, O., was suggested yesterday as a possible site for relocated aluminum plants.

Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson last week told Aluminum producers to prepare plans for possible removal of some of these plants in the power-short Pacific Northwest to areas of assured power supply.

Representative Secrest (D) of Ohio wrote Wilson, calling the defense mobilizer's attention to the power potentialities in his southeast Ohio congressional district.

"This area," Secrest said, "is ideally suited for the manufacture of aluminum or other products requiring a combination of power, coal, water and excellent available labor."

Metal-Making Group In U.S. For Meeting

WEIRTON, Sept. 28 (Special)—A group of 38 metallurgists from all the free countries of Europe and from India and Japan will arrive in Weirton next Tuesday morning to tour the plants of the Wierton Steel Co.

They are among 200 metallurgists now on tour of important metal production centers prior to attending the World Metallurgical Congress in Detroit Oct. 14-19.

The delegation visiting Weirton will arrive by special bus at about 9 o'clock and spend the entire day in the Steel Works, Tin Mill and Strip Steel plants.

The group will have previously visited metal-making plants in Kearney, N. J., Syracuse, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Lebanan, Pittsburgh and Aliquippa.

From here they will go to plants in Middletown, Chicago, Gary, Ind., and then to Detroit for the World Congress.

Included in the group coming to Weirton will be steel plant managers, metallurgists, open hearth superintendents, heads of research departments, managers of electric melting plants, and representatives of research associations. All are experienced metal works supervisors in their native countries.

They come from Italy, Norway, England, Belgium, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland, Greece, France, Germany, India and Japan. Twenty-five of the total of 200 touring the country at this time are from Japan. They are here at the request of the Supreme Commander of the Allied Forces of the Pacific. All are in America under the supervision of Central Intelligence authorities.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 28 (UP)—Columbus and New York City have been selected by government agencies for a survey to determine if wholesalers and retailers are making a fair profit.

The local Office of Price Stabilization, in making the announcement yesterday, said that three members of the local office will go to Washington this week to work with O.P.S. and Bureau of Labor Statistics officials to prepare for the study here Monday and Tuesday.

LOST 62 LBS. WITH RENNEL
Results Please Lima Lady

"Before taking Rennel I was gaining weight steadily," writes Mrs. Gladys Stroud, 116½ N. West St., Lima, Ohio. "I could hardly get my family meals or walk to the corner grocery store. Since I have been taking Rennel I have lost 62 lbs., and I am still losing weight. I feel much better, can do my work again and no longer feel all tired out. I certainly recommend Rennel to anyone who is overweight."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain liquid Rennel at your druggist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel.

Ohio Forgets $252,948 In Taxes On 5 Bridges

COLUMBUS, Sept. 28 (AP)—Ohio decided today to forget about $252,948 in taxes on five Ohio River bridges levied against West Virginia and Kentucky.

The state Board of Tax Appeals voted to remit the taxes under a new law enacted by the last legislature. The act, effective Sept. 7, permits the board to do that when other states reciprocate.

Two of the bridges cross the Ohio into Kentucky at Cincinnati. The tax assessment on the C. & O. Vehicular bridge from 1938-50 totaled $105,545. On the L. & N. span from 1937-50 it was $42,074.

The board delayed action on the privately-owned Central Bridge there pending an adjustment.

The other three bridges span the river between West Virginia and Washington county. Bridges and remittances are Parkersburg-Belpre, $1,700; Williamstown-Marietta, $1,936, and St. Mary's-Newport Township, $1,693.

High Taxes Fought By 'Liberty Belles'

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 28—(INS)—Vivien Kellems announced today formation of a national women's crusade against high taxes, communism and "corruption in American life".

Specifically, the woman industrialist of Stonington, Conn., demanded repeal of the income tax amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

Miss Kellems, who has been waging a single-handed battle against the government's income tax withholding program, said the new organization will be known as the Liberty Belles and have a men's auxiliary called the Liberty Boys.

She announced the crusade at a meeting of Rotarians and their wives at the Nicolett Hotel.

Miss Kellems predicted 10 million women will enroll in the next year and in the 1952 elections vote out of office "all traitors, parlor pinks, Socialists, Communists and Pendergraft-ists".

Migraine Headaches Relieved By Ergot

ZURICH, Switzerland, Sept. 28 (AP)—A new treatment said to bring relief from migraine headaches in 90 per cent of the cases in which it has been tested was reported to the First International College of Allergy here today.

The medicine used is ergot, plus a little caffein, the alkaloid familiar in coffee.

The report was made by Dr. Lester S. Blumenthal, chief of the Headache Clinic, George Washington University Medical School, Washington, D. C.

This present migraine medicine is the culmination of many years work improving ergot. Doctors now have three forms, Dr. Blumenthal said, which are medically useful. There are a dozen other forms whose uses are not known.

2 Boys Die Of Burns As Steel Drum Explodes

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28 (AP)—Arson squad investigators tried to find out today what caused a 50-gallon steel drum to explode and bring flaming death to two schoolboys.

The youths, Anthony Herrera, 10, and Roland McManus, 9, both suffered severe burns and died several hours after the blast.

Fire Captain Thomas Driscoll said arson investigators are inclined to believe the boys set a match to the small opening of the drum. The container held a rubbery, inflammable substance and was in an alley behind the R. H. Schwartzer Rubber Co.

The explosion sprayed flames over the boys and sent the drum flying over a garage.

And Winter's Coming

Plight Of Captive Yanks Stirs Fears

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 28 (AP)—Associated Press General Executive Frank H King said today The most tragic story in Korea today is the plight of 10 000 prisoners of war—most of them American—as winter closes in he predicted in a report on the Far East The report was prepared for today's session of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association

The editors also dug into problems of city editors and prepared resolutions condemning President Truman's sweeping security of information order to civilian agencies and the imprisonment of A P Correspondent William Oatis in Communist Czechoslovakia

At an afternoon session they considered a new trend in newspapering—the teletypesetter an automatic device for transmission of news to linotype machines

KING SAID American prisoners behind Communist lines are in need of 'quick aid'.

On Sept 12, he reminded the A P carried the first dispatch about distribution of winter clothing to troops in Korea He recently returned from a 10-week tour of Asian trouble areas

'Nobody thinks the Chinese Reds can provide for the prisoners,' he said 'It isn't a question if they are willing They haven't the material to provide warm winter clothes for their prisoners"

King said American authorities estimate there are 10 000 or more United Nations prisoners behind Red lines exclusive of South Koreans The exact number is not known

For one reason International Red Cross representatives never have been able to get beyond Peiping to inspect Red POW camps

The State Department has little or no information on the prisoners of war, King reported

He has sought such information since his return to this country in July He found American authorities reluctant to discuss the problem' because they did not want to hinder 'delicate' negotiations at Kaesong Cease-fire talks collapsed there more than a month ago

King told the managing editors the important thing to keep in mind about the Korean cease-fire talks is that the 135-mile war front is only one phase of the Asian situation

THE REAL FRONT, he said is the 1 400 miles from Hokkaido, Japan, to Hong Kong

The line runs on through the Philippines into Indonesia and down into the southwest Pacific to Australia and New Zealand

Korea he called the 'firefront, the active front' But the long island chain beginning with Japan in the north and running to the Antipodes is the free world's front in Asia he added

King said Korea is so important because Russia is sitting on the doorstep of Japan

'That simple fact is the basis of the conflict" the veteran A P executive declared

King reminded that in addition to Oatis being held a prisoner of Communist Czechoslovakia, the Reds in Korea are holding A P photographer Frank Noel, a Pulitzer prize winner

Noel was captured last December while covering the Marines

In Korea correspondents were betting 3 to 1 last Summer that Noel will walk out when the time comes King said 'because that's the kind of a resourceful man he is'.

Man In Wreck Fined

LISBON, Sept 28 — Leslie Neff of Dearborn, Mich, was fined $10 and costs Thursday night by Mayor Kenneth Hiscox after pleading guilty to intoxication He was arrested Wednesday night sitting in his damaged truck parked several feet from the curb on North Market St He had been in a wreck earlier police said

MAKES COMEBACK. James Michael Curley smiled as returns indicated he had gained one of the two places in the Boston mayoral primary The 77-year-old Curley, whose stormy political career has survived two terms in jail has promised that this is his last campaign if he fails to win in the Nov 6 election against Mayor John B Hynes who was the only candidate of the four to receive more votes than Curley in the primary. The contest is nonpartisan

Senator Mundt (R) of South Dakota, another member, said Boyle should sue the Post-Dispatch for libel as one means to get a decision in the case. Mundt told Boyle at the hearing

Either you have been seriously libeled with a very justifiable claim against the St Louis Post-Dispatch, or you have perjured yourself here today

Senator McClellan (D) of Arkansas told the national chairman In my judgment either you are perjuring yourself, or it is a deliberate slander"

At close of his testimony, Boyle told reporters he felt he had been vindicated' of the newspaper's charges He declined to say whether he will sue the newspaper. 'It's in the hands of my counsel," he said

The hearing is on Benton's resolution calling for a full-scale Senate inquiry to determine whether there are grounds to expel McCarthy from the Senate

If the issue should come before the Senate later, it would require a two-thirds majority of those voting to oust the Wisconsin lawmaker

Benton has charged generally that McCarthy has resorted to 'character assassination' in pressing his Communists-in-government charges

McCarthy has tossed back that Benton is a 'mental midget seeking to protect what McCarthy terms the crimson clique in the State Department'

County Pupils Get Patch Test Monday

Miss Lora Clark, supervisor of nurses for the Columbiana County Health Department announced today patch testing of all kindergarten and first grade pupils in the county's city and village schools will be made Monday.

Miss Clark said the test consists of applying to the upper arm a special tape with tiny squares of paper containing tuberculin The health nurses will apply the patches Monday, which will be removed by teachers Wednesday and children's arms will be read Friday by the school nurses

Cities which have their own school nurse personnel will assist in the program

Most children will have no reaction, Miss Clark said A letter will be sent to the parents whether reaction is positive or negative However, children with a positive reaction, and their families, will be given the opportunity to have free chest X-rays from the mobile unit operated by the Columbiana County Public Health League.

The program for schools in the county's rural system will operate the same way, beginning Oct 8.

Smith Makes Own Probe In Road Collapse

Kauer Says 3 Top Division Engineers Knew Of Faulty Job

COLUMBUS, Sept 28 (AP)—State Highway Director T J Kauer said yesterday the three top engineers in Division 11 were aware of faulty construction on U S Route 36 east of Newcomerstown while the work was in progress

Kauer suspended 12 engineers and inspectors for 30 days without pay Tuesday because a 500-foot section of the roadway crumbled within 15 minutes after traffic first went over it

Ten of these suspensions were lifted after Kauer had conferences with the men

Still under suspension, however are Charles H Fritche assistant division engineer of Cadiz and E Hodgen Tilton project supervisor, of New Philadelphia

Kauer said yesterday the 10 reinstated engineers and inspectors knew the work was progressing unsatisfactorily and reported this to their superiors, but that nothing was done

The highway director said Dawson Smith division engineer at New Philadelphia, also was aware there were unsatisfactory construction conditions

At this time however, Kauer said Smith is being "neither held responsible nor cleared" Kauer added that Smith is making an investigation of his own and has yet to report to the highway director

The suspensions of Fritche and Tilton, Kauer reported, will stand for the full 30 days

'They were in responsible charge of the job and they were neglectful of their duties,' the director explained

Borings are being taken of the crumbled roadway as part of the continuing investigation, it was announced

Kauer said the eight-foot embankment contained fire clay and that it was not properly drained Water was allowed to remain in the embankment and this softened the fill and made it sink beneath the weight of vehicles, investigation showed

The sinking was apparent while trucks were still working on the project, the director said Highway inspectors reported this, Kauer said but nothing was done

H W. Holt & Son of Columbus was the contractor for the $201,122 project Holt put in the fill and gravel base Edgar Spring of New Philadelphia was the subcontractor who laid the macadam and black top surface.

Under terms of the contract, the job must be corrected by the contractor No money has been paid out for any of the work to date Kauer reported

Congress Gets 'Thank You'

Legion Note Hits Truman, Press On Pension Stand

WASHINGTON Sept 28 (AP)—The American Legion sent a thank-you letter to Congress today for overriding President Truman s veto of a bill increasing pensions of certain disabled veterans

Signed by Commander Erle Cocke Jr it went to the 69 senators and 318 representatives who voted to override the veto A spokesman said a similar letter with 'variations' went to those who voted otherwise

The thank-you letter criticized Truman for what it called his 'ill-founded' comments on the bill and also the American press which the Legion said is showing a 'strangely belligerent and resentful reaction" to veterans' benefits

The letter said that of all the legislative proposals presented to Congress, only those affecting veterans are "consistently presented to the reading public on the basis of cost in the year 2000'.

Truman, in vetoing the pension measure estimated it would cost $16 700 000 in the first year and almost $4 000 000 000 a year toward the end of the century

"Most Americans knew the projected cost of the pension bill by the end of the century before they knew the nature of the bill itself," Cocke wrote

He said the Legion sympathized with Congress in its recent approval of a salary increase for government workers

'But so far as we can determine no voice has been raised to point out that the consequent cost to the taxpayers will be some $25,000 000 000 by the end of the century," he continued

The veterans' pension measure doubled—from $60 a month to $120 a month—the pension for low-income war veterans who were so severely disabled in civilian life that they require constant aid and attendance.

Truman said the increase would aggravate an already existing disparity in government treatment of non-veterans and of veterans whose disabilities are non-connected with military service'

It was this observation which Cocke called ill-founded and misdirected

Cocke saying he spoke for 3,000 000 Legionnaires, said the attitude of the press toward veterans legislation for some time now has been 'one of impatience bordering on disdain'.

"It is reflected in editorials and articles which all too often emphasize astronomical cost projections rather than basic facts," he said

Ousted Tax Aid Calls Charges 'Outrageous'

Smyth, Six Others Held Incompetent In California Shake-up

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 28 (AP)—A lightning-fast shape-up in the northern California income tax bureau brought a federal trouble shooter here so fast today he didn t have time to say goodbye to his wife

Charles F Masarik Jr arrived from Pittsburgh only 16 hours after President Truman suspended James G Smyth, internal revenue collector here, and six top aids on charges of incompetency Two lesser bureau employees also were suspended

Masarik takes charge here as deputy collector pending disposition of the Smyth case He has been assistant collector in Pittsburgh

'What s it all about'' Masarik asked newsmen as he stepped off an airliner

That's what a federal grand jury is asking too It called Smyth before it yesterday It is investigating charges that Smyth's office permitted irregularities that cost the government thousands of dollars

A few hours before the shake-up, one of the ousted bureau employees was found with slashed wrists The Sonoma county sheriff said the man, Edwin M Futardo, had attempted suicide with razor slashes and by drinking poison

Smyth, former northern California campaign manager for President Roosevelt was named collector in 1945 shortly before Roosevelt died

He called Truman's charges and the suspensions "outrageous

He said his six top aids were career employees "who devoted their lives to government"

I am confident the perding investigations will establish their personal integrity and honesty as well as my own"

John B Dunlap internal revenue chief said in Washington the suspensions were ordered because Smyth and his aids failed to meet their responsibility to 'prevent this kind of thing from going on".

Dope Roundup Goes On, With 62 Already In Jail

CLEVELAND Sept 28 (AP)—The biggest roundup of dope peddlers in Ohio history continued today

Police said they have arrested about 80 per cent of the 65 persons on their list

In all they have 62 persons in jail—but some of those are not on the list compiled by federal narcotics agents and the Cleveland Police Department

Police said whenever they found other persons in the homes or cars of suspects they brought them in also All are being held on open charges pending the issuance of federal indictments

Joseph Bell federal agent who did the undercover work, described Cleveland as the distribution center for the area between Pittsburgh and Detroit

He said he and other agents believe the Mafia is directing a Midwest business amounting to five million dollars annually—mostly by sales of heroin

The Mafia is a secret underworld organization sometimes called the Black Hand

Most of those picked up in the current series of raids are Clevelanders, although police said they have warrants for the arrest of about a "dozen" persons in Akron and "several" in Canton and Youngstown

A breakdown by cities of those arrested was not given

Dope, police explained, is routed to Cleveland from New York and Chicago and then distributed from here

The roundup aimed at smashing the distribution system, but Bell said 'We're not kidding ourselves The job is not nearly finished We still have a lot of work to do'

Bell investigated for six weeks before starting the current crackdown

From Washington, Congressman Frances P Bolton congratulated detectives with this statement

'It is good to know that Cleveland is alert The more one looks at the evidence, the more apparent becomes the need for stringent legislation to crush out these debacuchers of our youth

"The House this Summer passed a bill which would provide for mandatory penalties for drug sellers, growing progressively more severe with each offense, up to 30 years

'The bill is now in the Senate finance committee Immediate action is certainly indicated"

Cities Told To By Sites For Sewage Plants

COLUMBUS Sept 28 (AP)—Attorney General C William O'Neill today called on Sandusky, Bellevue and Ashtabula to buy sites for sewage treatment plants

The requests were included in letters to 11 more cities warning them to stop dumping raw sewage into streams in violation of Ohio's anti-pollution laws

The new warnings wound up the first stage of the attorney general's drive to get 30 cities to stop polluting streams Many of them contribute to pollution of Lake Erie he said, by dumping raw sewage into streams that flow into the lake

Others warned besides Sandusky, Bellevue and Ashtabula, are Napoleon, Defiance, Maumee Port Clinton, Wickliffe, North Olmstead, Willoughby and Painesville

A stiff anti-pollution law passed by the last legislature went into effect yesterday It increases pollution penalties from a $500 fine for each 30-day violation to a fine of $500 for each day

Alvis And Family Will Move Soon Into New Home

COLUMBUS Sept 28 (AP)—Warden Ralph W Alvis is happy he soon will be able to move his family from Ohio Penitentiary to a house in Columbus

He feels an apartment in "Pentown" is no place to bring up his two daughters—Ruth Jane 11, and Joann 10 The girls are seventh and sixth graders at Grandview School

The state is buying a house for Alvis, under a new law which permits heads of institutions to live off the institution grounds with permission of the state welfare director

Director John J Lamneck agreed to the move in Alvis' case and Governor Frank J Lausche seconded

The position is one of grave importance and if anyone is entitled to outside residence, he is," the governor declared

The state is paying $16 000 for the warden's house It's about 40 years old has nine rooms and three stories It's located in a residential neighborhood in Columbus' north end a good distance from the gray prison walls in the downtown factory district

Alvis isn't sure yet when he will move into his new home Like other heads of institutions, he must pay maintenance for room and board for himself and his family from his $9 000 yearly salary This amounts to $105 a month—$75 for himself and $10 each for his wife and two children.

Strikes Grow In New Jersey

Move From Aircraft To Rubber Industry

NEWARK, N J , Sept 28 (AP)—Mushrooming strikes in key New Jersey defense plants spread from the aircraft to the rubber industry today and threaten oil production

Well over a billion dollars in defense production was halted by walkouts affecting more than 18 000 workers

While federal mediators moved into the walkout of 10,000 Wright aeronautical workers in Woodbridge and Garfield, some 3 000 CIO rubber workers shut down the U S Rubber Co plant in Passaic at midnight

State officials moved to avert a stoppage of 2 200 workers at the Bayonne refinery of the Esso Standard Oil Co in mediation sessions here.

They also scheduled conferences to try to settle a wage dispute that has idled 1 100 workers at four plants of the Whippany Paper Board Co for 59 days

Picket lines were thrown around the Passaic rubber plant after 4-month-old negotiations with Local 217, United Rubber Workers, broke down over a piece-work incentive system and seniority provisions Some 2,700 production and 250 office workers stayed off the job

Local President Joseph Smith said wages are not the main issue in the rubber dispute Management contends it has yielded to 26 of 32 demands in the production contracts and 15 of 22 demands in the office contract to try to avoid the strike

About 3 3 million tons of grapes will be produced commercially in the United States this year.

The Classic School Of Murder

In the detective story of classic design, murder is perpetrated usually in genteel surroundings by killers whose grievances are reasonably genteel, too

The man has a simple sentimental attachment for money, usually his crotchety old uncle's Or he has been thwarted by love and wants to expunge the other guy Motives, in short, of understandable dimensions

You don't find much gentility in homicide—at least televised homicide—these days of heroin addiction complicated lusts and a general excess of emotion

It was kind of fun to see it again the other night on Martin Kane Private Eye

Young Reggie, a moustached wastrel of rococo design, was in love with uncle s toothsome secretary But he had to get uncle's consent or chances were, he'd be cut out of the will And then how would the couple live?

RIGHT AWAY, some instinct told me something untoward was going to happen to uncle moneybags a suspicion almost instantly confirmed when we met him

An unpleasant old party, hopelessly suspicious highly peremptory and very much in need of a rubbing out Also, he tended orchids And you know what those people are like

It's been a long time since an author has shown enough regard for the sensibilities of the rest of us to establish the fact that the corpse is no one we ll miss very much

Just as in the old days the suspects, each with a motive pinned on him like a clothing store label were paraded before us—young Reggie the pretty young lady and a sinister old lady (a sister of the deceased or something) who watched everyone else through spyglasses

All this before the old gentleman expired Everything in good time Years ago, there was a rule on Martin Kane that a corpse had to be produced within the first five minutes preferably within the first two Not any more Not within recent memory has there been such a procession of suspects before any crime had been committed

ULTIMATELY, of course, the old crank was extinguished and then in came Martin Kane, private eye, an expression that cries for fresh blood

Here again the inquisition followed classic lines The suspects were lined up in the living room and were asked where they were at a quarter to 10 They were all unshakably somewhere else and each knew to the most minute particular what he or she was doing at that precise minute of that precise evening

I can t recall a single evening of my life in which I could recall what I was up to at quarter to 10, or, for that matter, quarter after 10 and I'm always overwhelmed with admiration at these feats of memory

Anyhow, Kane abetted by his friend Sergeant Ross, is forced to employ deductive reasoning to break the case Now deduction sounds like a fairly obvious element in a detective story, but if you think about it a bit, you'll discover that you haven t seen very much of it around on television for a long time

The old Martin Kane solved murders almost entirely by the use of his fists, a non-deductive organ His skull was useful only to be beat upon by pistol butts The whole modern school of private sleuths dates back to Dashiell Hammett s The Maltese Falcon The hero of that epic was a real rough tough guy all right but he deducted from time to time, too

SOMEWHERE ALONG the line deduction got lost and was supplanted entirely by the ready fist and the gun butt Sakes amighty I can remember another Martin Kane drama which was up to its hips in bodies, but never bothered to disclose the motive for killing any of them Just pure, undistilled unreasoning homicide

I m happy to report the return to the more intellectual school of murder and also the fact that Kane solved his little puzzle by Margaret Hayes who plays about half the toothsome young ladies on TV these days and appears on panel shows on what is left of the 24-hour day

Incidentally, there's a new Martin Kane—Lloyd Nolan, replacing the old one William Gargan

Of the two Gargan was prettier and more urbane Nolan is breezier and more formidable You might think Martin Kane didn t warrant an exposition of such length but the fact is this show is just about the most televised thing on earth short of Senator Kefauver and Milton Berle

It now appears live in 38 cities and by kinescope in 23 more which is just about as far as you can go on television these days

Bradley's Trip To Korea Stirs Speculation

May Be Carrying Top-Secret Plans For Ridgway, Staff

WASHINGTON, Sept 28 (AP)—General Omar Bradley, head of the high command sped by air today to the Far East where there has been an ominous stepup in the Reds' air war and where already faltering truce negotiations threaten to bog down finally

The Defense Department, in belatedly announcing that the general left Washington Wednesday night accompanied by Charles Bohlen State Department counselor, said yesterday Bradley is to "survey all aspects of the situation' with General Matthew Ridgway, United Nations commander

Then the department added its customary announcement that 'this is one of the periodic visits that the members of the joint chiefs of staff make to overseas theaters

But the fact remains that this is the first visit by the joint chiefs chairman to the Far East since the Korean war started and that it comes at a time of an obviously changing situation

Bradley is understood to have made tentative plans last Spring for a visit to the Korean war zone in July but to have shelved those plans after the truce proposal was made for fear his trip might be interpreted as related to the talks

Therefore, the decision for him to go now produced speculation that

1 —He might be carrying to Ridgway instructions from high policymaking levels here of a nature too confidential for telephonic or telegraphic conferences between Washington and the Tokyo headquarters

2 —With growing evidence the Communists are merely stalling for time and may have no sincere intention of going ahead with the truce proposed by Russia's U N delegate, Jacob Malik, new operational plans for U S forces in Korea may be in the making

3 —Or it is quite possible that Bradley wants to equip himself with firsthand information on the general war situation in Korea before going later this fall to Europe for meetings with military chiefs of European nations

Bradley's aides said the general expects to be away from Washington on the Far Eastern trip for about a week or 10 days, then plans to come back to the capital, before setting forth for Greece and Turkey.

Sheriff Views Sinners Through Peepholes

APPOMATTOX, Va (U P) — Sheriff David T Robertson devised a novel but effective way of checking suspected 'sin spots" in rural Appomattox county

Robertson peered through holes bored in the trunk of a car which a new deputy drove to honky-tonks and other suspicious establishments He must have seen a lot

Armed with his information, Robertson led some 40 state, federal and county officers on a series of vice raids that netted nearly 50 arrests

PITTSBURGH, Sept 28 (AP — A recommendation by a special grand jury that Mayor David L Lawrence be indicted for laxity in office will be presented to the Allegheny county grand jury Monday

The special grand jury, probing vice and official corruption in the county, accused the mayor of laxity in seeing that city contracts are fulfilled

The charge came after the probing jurors examined a city contract with the Broadway Maintenance Corp to install street lights in Pittsburgh

The special jurors lack the power to indict They can only make recommendations to the regular grand jury

Beef To Cost More Beginning Monday

WASHINGTON, Sept 28 (AP— Housewives will begin paying an average of 1½ to 2 cents a pound more for beef next Monday

The Office of Price Stabilization announced late yesterday new ceilings which boosted the prices of some cuts and lowered others, but on the average resulted in a slight over-all increase

The O P S ordered that the new prices be posted so customers can see them easily

THIS IS what will happen to the better-known beef products

Hamburger—The cheaper grade containing up to 25 per cent fat will go up about a penny a pound The better grade lean ground containing up to 12 per cent fat, will increase 2 to 5 cents a pound

Round steak and chuck roasts—These most popular selling cuts will go up 2 to 8 cents a pound depending on grade

Porterhouse steaks, prime sirloin —These and other higher-priced cuts which have not been selling as well will drop from 4 to 8 certs a pound

Rib cuts—Up 15 cents a pound

Brisket or stewing beef—Down as much as 20 cents a pound on choice cuts

The O P S said the choice grades which account for 35 per cent of all beef sold to consumers probably will not average more than a penny a pound increase

Sharpest increases apply to utility grade cuts, used in processing sausage, smoked and cured meat, which account for 10 per cent of sales, the O P S reported

Actual prices over the country will vary in the 25 zones into which the country has been split for pricing purposes, as they do now because of differences in transportation and other costs

However the changes are the same in all zones and will range from an increase of 29 cents a pound on some cuts to a drop of 20 cents on others

For the first time, dollar-and-cent ceilings are set on prime grades which formerly sold at choice grade ceilings This means the better grade will go up about 4 cents a pound more than under the previous choice ceiling

The new ceilings were ordered to permit wholesalers to pass on to consumers recent boosts in their own ceilings Those wholesale ceilings in turn, were boosted to let packers make up losses on tallow and hides which had sagged in price.

O.P.S. DIRECTOR Michael V. DiSalle promised that his agency s drive for enforcement of beef controls will continue until the industry is convinced "we mean business ".

DiSalle told newsmen in Chicago that the drive already has turned up 254 violations of control regulations and has confirmed that many established packers and wholesalers—' not fly-by-night operators"—have engaged in illegal practices.

The American Meat Institute denied his statement

The Army, meanwhile, is having meat trouble It said it has been forced to turn down meat offers from Brazil and Uruguay because both failed to meet acceptable U S grading standards.

The Army only recently reported it was going into the foreign market because American firms did not bid on its offer to buy 10 million pounds of beef

The two South American countries offered commercial grades only. This is two grades below the choice standard formerly fixed by the armed serices

The military has now decided to lower its requirements. Even so, the Latin countries failed to meet acceptable grading standards

Hays Lashes Iowa Governor In Tax Case

Representative Wayne L Hays, 18th District Democrat, told the House today in Washington "anyone who is paying $13,000 in back taxes is either a poor keeper of his own accounts or someone who has violated the laws of his country ".

Hays said he understood that Governor Williams Beardsley of Iowa, a Republican had paid $13-000 to the Bureau of Internal Revenue for back income taxes fines and assessments He added

"No matter what the reason he hardly deserves to be responsible for the destiny of one of our most important states "

Hays said ' the most fantastic thing ' about the Beardsley case was a statement attributed to the governor in which "he admits that he has offered to settle his income tax case for $13,000 and says it is purely a personal matter "

"This is certainly a matter which we should watch closely and even consider for possible criminal investigation " Hays added.

The state bird of New Hampshire is the purple finch.

Plans Laid At Meeting

Federation To Push Better Schools Drive

Members of the Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations, which has supplied the leadership so far in the current campaign for better schools, saw one of the results of its work at a meeting Thursday night at Memorial Auditorium.

The motion picture, "Your Home Town", was screened for the Federation's meeting, and a long discussion held on plans to keep the campaign rolling until Election Day.

The Federation, made up of P.T.A. representatives from every school in the community, was asked to make contributions from the P.T.A. treasuries to the cost of carrying forward the drive.

It was estimated the program will cost $1,500 from now until election, mostly for advertisements and other promotions. Each P.T.A. will be asked to contribute to this fund.

James Lowe, president of the Federation who presided at last night's meeting, said it was his understanding that the P.T.A.'s were responsible for "at least 50 per cent" of the new registrations which were reported by the Election Board when the registration period ended Wednesday.

Others who took part in the program were Leo C. Lawrence, chairman of the committee supervising the better schools campaign, and John Ridder, who is in charge of publicity for the campaign.

A number of questions were directed at Lawrence about some of the objections which have come up from the public.

One man in the audience wanted to know if there would be enough room for a playground at the proposed Seventh St. elementary building.

O. E. Hall, president of the Board of Education, said the site was the largest one the Board could obtain in the area which the school would serve, and said the cost is the main limitation. "Downtown real estate is mighty expensive," Mr. Hall commented.

Another questioner asked why the present buildings couldn't be repaired, instead of building new ones.

"The best answer to that question," Lawrence said, "is the job being done on the building on Sixth St. where Heime's used to be located.

"It looks like it's going to cost as much to fix that building as it would to build a new one—and you still have the same old building.

"We want to get rid of the old buildings. They cost so much to maintain that they drain all the money away from the other buildings in the system, which also need to be maintained but can't be when we spend everything on the old ones."

Lowe pleaded with the audience to "stop thinking about the cost for a little bit, and think about the children". He said their welfare can't be estimated in dollars and cents.

Along this line, Glenn B. Roberts, a member of the Speakers' Bureau for the campaign, said the unsafe condition of the old buildings is the main point of the whole campaign.

"We've got to make people realize that those buildings are dangerous," Roberts said. "We could have a real tragedy at any of them anytime.

"You couldn't get organized workers to work under hazardous conditions like that. We shouldn't make our children expose themselves to injury every time they go to school."

It was brought out that at Sixth St. School, oldest in the city, it was necessary to stop having the children change classes all at the same time. The floors trembled too badly.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph W. Betts pointed out in a brief talk that every single child in the city will benefit from the program. Many will go to the new elementary building, he said. Then the upper grades from every single building will go to the two new Junior High Schools, putting hundreds of youngsters from all parts of the community in new buildings for the first time in years.

Ridder outlined publicity plans which are contemplated for October, including a "Big Show" on Oct. 30, copied after the "Big Show" of radio fame. It is planned to have a two-hour show of amateur talent to boost the new school vote.

'MY WHITIE IS DEAD'. Ten-year-old Cordie Marie Phelps was grief stricken after she watched an unidentified man beat her dog, Whitie, to death with a heavy board at Louisville, Ky. The dog's only offense, she said, was a bark at the stranger. Whitie was the pet of the neighborhood children. Cordie Marie is consoled by Patrolman L. A. Koehler.

14 Bodies Recovered From Plane In Japan

MATSUDA, Japan, Sept. 28 (AP)— Japanese police reported tonight that 14 bodies were found in and near the wreckage of a U.S. Air Force C-119 flying boxcar which crashed near here last night.

A C-46 Commando, also en route to Tokyo, crashed and burned early today in foothills near Hakone, seven miles west of Atsugi. It was carrying a crew of six and five passengers.

Japanese firemen and youths carried the bodies from the C-119 crash down the slope of a rugged mountain.

County Board Waits Word On Husband Draft

At Columbus, a spokesman said there is no state breakdown of registered fathers and childless married men. They now are grouped together in the 3-A dependency classification.

Policeman's Glasses Broken In Hazing Case

A Chester patrolman's glasses were broken Wednesday afternoon in a scuffle with a High School girl who took issue with his order to leave the scene of hazing incident at Louisiana Ave. and Dunn St.

Authorities said two other girls were fighting and attracted a crowd of student spectators and some adults.

Patrolman Harold Davis was summoned and the scuffle occurred as he attempted to put the girl in the cruiser after she allegedly defied him and shouted at him.

Ohio's Collegiate Gridders Carded For Attractive Games

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 28 (AP)—Ohio's collegiate gridders have one of the season's most attractive programs on tap this week end.

Only 80,000 can fight ther way into Buckeye Stadium for the headliner between Ohio State and Southern Methodist Saturday afternoon, but plenty of topflight action is available for the overflow.

One of the really hot contests is booked at Cincinnati where Sid Gillman's potent Bearcats entertain Tulsa. The Oklahoma crew is an odds on favorite, but the 'Cats are capable of pulling one of the season's upsets after impressive wins over Virginia Military and Kansas State.

Other attractive contests tomorrow send Bowling Green against Miami's Mid-American Conference champions at Oxford; Western Michigan against Toledo in a Mid-American event; and Xavier's twice-victorious Musketeers to Camp LeJeune, N. C., for a tilt with the Marines.

Also attracting attention is the invasion of Butler at Indianapolis by Western Reserve. The latter, with colorful Eddie Finnigan taking over the coaching helm, is opening what the school terms a "new football era". Finnigan, rated one of the most astute mentors in the Mid-West, is expected to lift the Red Cats back among the powers in the Mid-American loop in which they haven't done too well in recent seasons.

Saturday also brings up Otterbein at Ohio Wesleyan, Oberlin at Wittenberg (both Ohio Conference games); Findlay at Bluffton and Cedarville at Ashland in the Mid-Ohio League; Muskingum at Baldwin Wallace, Ferris Institute at Defiance, Wilmington at Capital, Washington and Jefferson at Denison, Central State at Maryland State, Hiram at Thiel, Akron at Ohio U. and Ohio Northern at Wooster.

Tonight's games send Bethany to Marietta, Mount Union to Kent State, and Heidelberg to Hillsdale, Mich., while Dayton entertains St. Bonaventure in a Sunday encounter.

Here's Football Game Where Both Teams Lost

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 28 (AP)—Ever hear of a football game in which both teams lost?

Two Portland high schools achieved it.

One of the teams, Roosevelt, came out the nominal winner, 34-0, but then it was discovered two ineligible players had been used. Roosevelt was ordered to forfeit the game.

Next it was learned the other team, Cleveland, also had used an ineligible player. Someone suggested cancelling the whole affair, but officials protested that the offending teams would be getting off without a penalty.

So a forfeit defeat was marked against both teams.

Folding Of Saginaw Threatens Central Loop

SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 28 (AP)—The four-year-old Class A Central League is threatened with the folding of one of its six clubs.

Stockholders of the financially pressed Saginaw Jack Rabbits decided to file a petition in voluntary bankruptcy.

Few of the Central's clubs did well at the gate this year. Saginaw, despite a third-place finish, didn't draw crowds.

Other league members are Flint, Grand Rapids and Muskegon in Michigan, and Dayton, O., and Charleston, W. Va.

Youngstown Defeats John Carroll, 10-6

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 28 (AP)—A 75-yard touchdown march and a 28-yard field goal gave Youngstown College a 10-6 triumph last night over John Carroll University.

Ralph Goldstan flipped a four-yard pass to John Bolivar for the six-pointer in the last period. The feature of the drive was Goldstan's run for 39 yards.

The field goal—in the first period—was by Felix Rutecki of Lisbon.

Ronnie Kaminski roared 15 yards for Carroll's touchdown in the third period, ending a drive of 66 yards.

Deaths Laid To Driver

PRESTON, Minn., Sept. 28 (AP)—A coroner's jury has ruled that careless driving by Andrew Kovach of Steubenville caused an accident Aug. 19 which killed two persons. Killed were William Howieson, 40, of Amboy, Minn., and Edna Banyai, 25, of Martins Ferry, O., a passenger in Kovach's car. Kovach is still hospitalized at Rochester, Minn.

Jockey's Ordered Off Track In Plot To 'Fix' Race

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 28 (AP)—State Senator A. R. (Snooks) Winters testified he ordered a jockey off the Charles Town track because he heard him plotting to fix a race in July, 1949.

Guard Dewey Ambrose is named co-defendant with the Charles Town Jackey Club in a $10,000 damage suit. Jockey Edwin C. Richmond claims he was the victim of false arrest, mistreatment, personal injury and humiliation, when forced off track property on Dec. 8, 1949. Winters is a steward at the track.

Harry H. Byrer Sr., lawyer for the track, and Ambrose, told Federal Judge William E. Baker that Richmond was ordered off the track earlier that year. The counsel argued that Richmond had failed to make good on $200 he borrowed from Mrs. A. J. Boyle, wife of the track's president.

On the day in question, Byrer said, Richmond failed to leave and "spit in the face" of an arresting officer.

Judge Baker is hearing the case without a jury.

Singing Mouse Warbles Like A Mocking Bird

BRANDON, Miss., Sept. 28 (AP)—Comes now a mouse that can sing.

Don't believe it?

Neither did Ernest Barton, staff writer on the Jackson (Miss.) Clarion-Ledger until he heard the inch-long creature warble here yesterday. Barton said the mouse has a voice like a mocking bird.

He got the serenade at the invitation of its owner, Bill Bass.

Bass caught the mouse after a week of disturbance by what he thought was a mocking bird.

He put the mouse in a jar and the musical twittering came forth with hollow - sounding reverberations as if the mouse were singing in a shower.

Bass couldn't believe what he heard.

Finally he told a brother, who called the Clarion-Ledger.

"We listened sympathetically to his story, hoping all the time he would go to bed and sleep it off," said Barton.

"Skeptically we agreed to go interview the mouse," Barton said. "We were convinced and we got out of there fast. The blamed thing might have started talking."

Jittery Dodgers Move Into Philly With Only ½-Game Lead

Tribe Hopes Lightning Strikes 4 Times In N. Y.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians went through an extended batting drill today and hoped lightning would strike at least four times in New York's Yankee Stadium.

While the Tribe draws a bye today, the front-running New York Yankees start a series of five games within three days against Boston. All the Yankees need to eliminate second-place Cleveland from the pennant race are two wins—that is, if the Indians win games Saturday and Sunday from Detroit.

Today's games are important because the Yankees are short on starting pitchers. They will start Allie Reynolds and Vic Raschi against the Sox. That leaves them only one other regular starter for the last three games—Ed Lopat.

If Cleveland still has even a mathematical chance by tomorrow, Manager Al Lopez will pitch either Bob Feller (22-8) or Mike Garcia (20-13) and save Bob Lemon (17-14) for Sunday's final game of the season.

If the Tribe is out of the running, the manager will probably start one of his younger pitchers—who have been out of action since mid-season when Cleveland started its drive.

As the season drew to a close, a lot of the Indians could look forward to salary cuts for play in 1952. General Manager Hank Greenberg formerly has based his offers on past performance.

And only two tribesmen—Bob Avila and Jim Hegan—have boosted their batting averages this season. Avila is now at .305 compared with .295 last year. Hegan is at .238 compared with .219 for 1950.

Among those dropping off their former pace are Larry Doby, .298 instead of .326; Luke Easter .265 instead of .280; and Al Rosen, down to .266 from .287.

Cleveland has dumped Detroit 17 of 21 times this season—but three Tiger victories were last week and they just about ended the last three games—Ed Lopat.

Yankees Eye 'Clincher' In Double Bill

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the Brooklyn Dodgers clinging to an end-of-the-branch half game lead over the New York Giants in the torrid National League pennant race, Brook Manager Charlie Dressen today found himself in a mighty ticklish situation, indeed.

The prides of the Gowanus reeled into Philadelphia for tonight's game with the Phillies with this situation facing them:

In order to insure themselves the pennant they must sweep all three games with the Phils over the week end, assuming of course the New York Giants win both their remaining contests with the Boston Braves in Beantown starting tomorrow.

But . . .

If they lose one and the Giants win two the race will end in a deadlock, and if they lose two and the Giants win two—whoosh, it will be wait-till-next-year. So from the Giants' view, the Durochermen must win their two games with the Braves and hope for an assist from the Phils.

After Brooklyn's ace Preacher Roe failed yesterday, absorbing a 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Braves, Dressen planned to send Carl Erskine (16-11) against the Phils in the opener. Following him, it could be Don Newcombe and Roe again on Sunday.

Phil Manager Eddie Sawyer will send Karl Drews, an ex-New York Yankee, against the Dodgers in the opener, then follow with Robin Roberts and Bubba Church. None of the three figure exactly to be easy marks.

As for the American League, the New York Yankees are in a position to breathe a little easier, what with their 2½ game bulge over the Cleveland Indians. The Yanks, in fact, can clinch the pennant today if they whip the Boston Red Sox in a double-header.

The Sox are ripe, too, after being mathematically eliminated yesterday by the Washington Senators, 8-6. Yank Manager Casey Stengel is taking no chances, though. He's throwing two of his aces against the Sox. Allie Reynolds (16-8) and Vic Raschi (20-10).

The magic number remains two for the Yanks—any combination of two New York triumphs or two Indian losses. The Tribe has two games to play, the Yanks five.

The excited Dodgers really blew their tops yesterday at Umpire Frank Dascoli, who called Bob Addis safe at home with what proved to be the winning run in the eighth. Dascoli cleared the Brook bench and threw out Catcher Roy Campanella and Coach Cookie Lavagetto.

He said later he gave Campy the boot because the backstop threw his glove in the air, an act which, he said, calls for automatic ejection.

Roe's third defeat of the campaign was a tough one for a pitcher who has won 22. He was nursing a 10-game winning streak and hoping to better the National League pitching percentage record of 16-2 set by Freddie Fitzsimmons in 1940. He can't do it now.

Chet Nichols, a 20-year-old southpaw, stifled the Dodgers with six hits while his mates were taping Roe for 10. Brooklyn went ahead twice, but couldn't hold its advantage either time. The Brooks scored one each in the first and fourth. But the Braves came back with two in the fourth, including a home run by Sam Jethroe.

Then, in the sixth again, Dressen's operatives tallied, only to have the Braves tie it again. Then came the fatal eighth. Addis singled and went to third on Jethroe's single. Earl Torgerson grounded to Jackie Robinson, who tried to get Addis. Dascoli called him safe and that set off the din.

Campanella's ousting was a tough one, because the Brooks had a chance to tie it in the ninth when Pee Wee Reese doubled and went to third on Robinson's infield out. Dressen sent Wayne Terwilliger in to bat for Al Walker, who took Campanella's place. Terwilliger grounded out and Reese held third. Andy Pafko whiffed to end the game.

The Red Sox apparently cracked wide open, losing all three games to the seventh-place Senators in the current series. They now are six games back with five to play. Chuck Stobbs was the victim and Al Sima the winner in yesterday's affair.

Rookie Duke Markell hing up his first major league triumph as the tail-end St. Louis Browns stopped the Detroit Tigers, 7-4, in the only other major league game of the day.

Rams-Yanks Open Pro Football Season Tonight

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28 (Special)—The Los Angeles Rams, defending champions of the National Conference, will play host tonight to the New York Yanks in the opening game of the 32nd season of the National Football League.

The season will move into high gear Sunday when four games will be played, three in the Mid-West and the fourth in San Francisco. Next Monday night in Pittsburgh the New York Giants will engage the Steelers in the sixth game of the first week end of the season.

The Sunday games will be played: between the Chicago Bears and Green Bay at Green Bay; Cleveland and San Francisco in the coast city; the Philadelphia Eagles and the Chicago Cardinals in Chicago, and Washington and Detroit in Detroit.

During the course of the season that ends Dec. 16, the 12 teams will play 72 games. The championship game will be played Dec. 23 in the city of the team winning the National Conference championship unless playoffs are necessary in one or both conferences in which case the title game will be played a week later.

The American Conference consists of the Chicago Cardinals, Cleveland Browns, New York Giants, Philadelphia Eagles, Pittsburgh Stellers and Washington Redskins. In the National Conference are the Chicago Bears, Detroit Lions, Green Bay Packers, Los Angeles Rams, New York Yanks and San Francisco Forty Niners.

Bert Bell, commissioner of the league, believes that the race for the championship in the two conferences will be as exciting and close as in 1950 when playoffs were necessary in both conferences and when with few exceptions virtually every team was in contention until the last couple of weeks of the season.

Since the training season started the teams have played 36 non-championship games in 28 cities in 18 states and Canada. These games have given the coaches an opportunity to pass judgment on the individual players, 33 of whom under the player limit may be suited for the opening game of the season.

Three teams will have new coaches. Detroit with Raymond K. "Buddy" Parker, the Lions' backfield coach last season; the New York Yanks with James P. Phelan, and the Philadelphia Eagles with Alvin N. "Bo" McMillin, who last year was head coach of Detroit.

The veteran coaches include George Halas, Chicago Bears; Curly Lambeau, Chicago Cardinals; Paul E. Brown, Cleveland Browns; Gene Ronzani, Green Bay; Joe Stydahar, Los Angeles Rams; Steve Owen, New York Giants; John Michelosen, Pittsburgh Steelers; Lawrence T. "Buck" Shaw, San Francisco 49ers, and Herman Ball, Washington Redskins.

With the exception of Pittsburgh which employs the single wing, all teams will use the T-formation either straight or with modifications.

The series results between the teams in the opening games follow: Los Angeles won two, New York Yanks won none; Chicago Bears won 37, Green Bay, 23, five tied; Cleveland won one, San Francisco, none; Philadelphia won six, Chicago Cardinals won six, one tied; Washington won seven, Detroit won one, and New York Giants won 19, Pittsburgh won 11, one tied.

Steubenville Hits Massillon In Top Game

By International News Service

Steubenville will be in the center of the Ohio High School grid spotlight tonight as the Big Red tries to stop Massillon's mighty 16-game winning streak.

The Big Red has not beaten a Massillon eleven since the 1931 season when they walloped the Tigers squad, 67-0. Benny Bunch, 155-pound Steubenville fullback, will be pitted against Henry Groom, star Massillon fullback.

Coach Chuck Thackara's Big Blue from Hamilton tackles Cincinnati Elder. Hamilton has held opponents scoreless and piled up 12 points in two games.

Middletown's powerful Middies collide with Toledo Libbey and are expected to encounter little trouble from them. Massillon ripped Libbey in its opening start.

The Springfield Wildcats, rated as one of the top teams in the state, will tangle with Portsmouth, losers by a 52-0 count to Cleveland East Tech last week.

Barberton will seek to stretch its unbeaten string this season to three games against Akron Garfield. Alliance and Mansfield swap blows on the Aviators' field and it is expected to be a rugged game.

In other battles this week end, Fremont Ross tackles Fostoria; Warren, upset victor over Canton McKinley, plays host to Farrell, Pa.; Youngstown Boardman tangles with Hubbard; Lima Central mixes with Dayton Kiser, Zanesville fights Coshocton and Sandusky faces Toledo Scott.

Catcher Birdie Tebbets of the Cleveland Indians was the first player on the club to be thrown out of a game by an umpire this season.

New Philly Just As Tough As Last Year, Watts Says

Coach Wade Watts told members of the Blue & White Nonpareil Club Thursday night New Philly is just as tough as they were last year when they defeated the Potters.

He said they were very impressive in their first two games and will have a good running team with Miller and Richards back with more experience.

The Potter coach said they have been working on defense most of this week and announced the squad in very good shape.

At the business meeting, Dave Jenkins, chairman, announced the Lisbon Freshman will play the Potter Frosh in the annual club's sponsored game Oct. 19 under the lights at Patterson Field.

Harry McConville, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Super-Agency Set To Direct Aid Program

E.C.A. Would End Under Action Given Conferees' O.K.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Senate-House conferees yesterday approved a $7,483,400,000 foreign aid bill setting up a new super-agency to boss the entire program of economic and military aid to the non-Communist world.

Under the bill, the Economic Cooperation Administration, which now administers economic aid to the Marshal plan countries, would be abolished.

As a replacement, President Truman would be authorized to establish a new "mutual security" agency and appoint a $22,500-a-year director with sweeping powers.

The director would have his headquarters in the White House.

Agreement on the measure followed bitter disputes over the State Department's role in the huge program.

Some Congressmen have contended that under the regime of Secretary of State Acheson the department has attempted to dictate policy in the military realm as well as in the field of international diplomacy.

The bill provides that the State Department would control only the relatively minor "Point Four" program of technical help to the world's undeveloped areas.

The approved authorization is roughly $1,000,000,000 less than Truman requested.

It is $197,150,000 more than the Senate approved and $15,350,000 less than the House voted.

Chairman Connally (D) of Texas of the Senate foreign relations committee told newsmen the compromise bill "means unity in foreign relations regardless of politics".

Chairman Richards (D) of South Carolina of the House foreign affairs committee called it a "happy solution" of differences.

He said it would meet the needs of General Dwight Eisenhower in building up a western European defense force.

The bill, regarded as almost certain to win final approval in both houses, provides that the new mutual security director would have dispute-settling power and would be responsible for the "continuous supervision and general direction" of all the aid programs.

Midland Lets Paving Work

Contract For $9,818 Awarded By Council

Midland Borough Council Thursday night awarded a street paving and improvement contract to the Beaver Asphalt Paving & Construction Co. for $9,818.

Work will get unde. way about Nov. 1 and will be completed on or before Dec. 15. The contract calls for widening and curbing of Virginia Ave. from Fourth to Sixth Sts., Fifth St. from Ohio Ave. to Virginia Ave., and improvement of 11th St. from Midland Ave. to Railroad Lane.

Council said the borough will pay for the Christmas street lights to be on Dec. 1 through Jan. 7.

Air pollution and parking congestion on Penn Ave. between Third and Fourth Sts. were discussed and council instructed Police Chief E. J. Stefl to study the parking problem and report back to council.

In the absence of John Phillips, president, and Eli Corak, vice-president, who are in Harrisburg in connection with the proposed Shippingport Bridge, Claire Aikens acted as president.

3 Overcome In Home By Mysterious Fumes

Three Madison Township people were recovering today after being overcome by mysterious fumes in their home on the Cream Ridge Road early Thursday morning.

Mrs. Gloe Cline awakened about 4:30 a. m., feeling sick. She attempted to call her sister, Mrs. Mary McBane on Wood St., Wellsville, when she fainted.

Her husband, Lawrence Cline, who had been awakened, attempted to revive her and he, too, fell to the floor unconscious. Mrs. Cline recovered in a few minutes and called Curtis Garner, a neighbor. Mr. and Mrs. Cline and their 11-year-old daughter, Margaret, were carried to the Garner home where they were attended by Dr. W. J. Horger.

Friends of the family said no gas is used in the basement building they are occupying as a home while building a new house. They have a mechanical refrigerator but its gas is not poisonous. The family is staying temporarily with Mrs. McBane while the source of the fumes is traced.

Under Easing Of Treaty

'Big 3' Gamble On Italy Not Going Totalitarian

By STAN SWINTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROME, Sept. 28 (AP)—The U. S., Britain and France are gambling that Italy never again will become a totalitarian country.

That is the interpretation informed circles here give to the unexpected announcement that the "Big Three" are willing to cancel three political articles of the 1947 Italian peace treaty.

Observers had anticipated "Big Three" support of Italy's request to rearm. Abolition of punitive clauses in the treaty also was expected.

What raised eyebrows in Rome was the news this week that the "Big Three" also agree to do away with Articles 15, 16 and 17.

Article 15 guaranteed "without distinction as to race, sex, language or religion, the enjoyment of human rights and of the fundamental freedoms, including freedom of expression, of press and publication of religious worship, of political opinion and of public meeting".

In other words it was a sort of Bill of Rights.

A pledge not to prosecute or molest Italians who aided the Allies was contained in Article 16.

Article 17 guaranteed Italy never would permit a resurrection of fascism.

The Italians felt the articles superfluous because similar guarantees are contained in the new constitution in force since Jan. 1, 1948.

But foreign observers note:

1.—The openly fascist M.S.W. (Italian social movement) has been and is permitted to campaign freely. It won 4 per cent of the popular vote in the last parliamentary election and captured six seats in the Chamber of Deputies. Its leaders boast they will poll five million votes in the next general election.

2.—Italy has the largest Communist party outside the iron curtain. Foreign observers here point out that should either the Communists or Fascists come to power in the future they presumably would denounce the present constitution. Once the political clauses of the peace treaty are denounced, that constitution would be the only legal protection of basic liberties.

The peace treaty gave the World War Two victors the right to intervene if there was a Fascist revival—or if fundamental rights were violated by suppression of free speech or a free press.

Renunciation of Articles 15, 16 and 17 would strip the victors of that right to step in.

There is no immediate indication that either the Reds or Fascists seriously threaten to win control of Italy in the next few years. But it could happen.

The Communists and pro-Communist socialists have 178 out of 570 seats in the Chamber of Deputies. The M.S.I. is growing fast.

By indicating willingness to denounce the three political clauses, the western powers gamble that neither fascism nor communism ever will come to power in Italy.

There is no unanimity among foreign observers here that this gamble is wholly without a risk.

"Big Three" willingness to discard a fourth political article, 18, caused less surprise.

It bound Italy to recognize the satellite peace treaties. Since the satellites openly have violated them the West had not been expected to force Italy to continue to respect them.

Income Boost Still Sought

Senate May Complete Tax Bill Action Tonight

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Senator George (D) of Georgia said today it is "crazy" to think the Senate will vote a bigger increase on personal income taxes after rejecting all other major boosts in its tax increase bill.

Senator Humphrey (D) of Minnesota, leading a group of administration senators trying for a greater tax boost, agreed with the veteran finance committee chairman.

But the Minnesotan said he will push anyway for a personal income tax plan that would raise more than the finance committee's version and put a heavier burden in the middle and higher income levels.

The Senate late yesterday turned down, 49 to 29, an attempt by members of the defunct crime investigating committee to knock out of the bill a new gambling tax estimated to bring in $407,000,000 a year.

The Senate met today two hours ahead of its usual time, with some possibility it may complete action on the $5,506,000,000 tax revenue-boosting measure tonight. This is the ninth day of debate on the bill.

Democratic Leader McFarland of Arizona succeeded late yesterday in obtaining an agreement to limit debate on each amendment. He promised a night session tonight. "Uncle Sam a partner" of underworld kingpins and discourage local law enforcement.

Kefauver, former crime committee chairman, proposed to substitute for the tax four amendments that group worked out.

They would have prevented income tax deductions of expenses incurred in illegal gambling operations, required detailed record-keeping of gambling transactions and forced net worth statements to be filed by persons with more than $10,000 income from illegal operations.

Senator Kerr (D) of Oklahoma argued for the finance committee that the tax implied no more approval of gambling than the levy on liquor or opium gave federal sanction to their use.

The gambling tax would be levied at a 10 per cent rate on all bets made with bookmakers, numbers game operators and other professional gamblers.

It now is certain to be in the tax bill in its final form, since the House voted for it.

George said he would be satisfied with passage tomorrow.

The individual income tax boost plan to be advanced by Humphrey and his associates would write into the tax schedules new levies having the effect of eliminating the benefits of income-splitting.

The split income section was written into the law in 1948. It gives a break to married couples in middle and higher brackets.

Humphrey said his plan would raise $2,500,000,000 in new revenue as compared with $2,394,000,000 for the personal income tax boost approved by the finance committee.

He said most of the additional revenue would come from those in the $12,000 to $25,000 income brackets.

The committee voted an 11 per cent boost on most individuals with softer treatment for those in brackets of about $50,000 and over.

The administration bloc had as an alternative amendment a proposal to put into the bill the same 12½ per cent personal income tax increase voted by the House when it passed its $7,200,000,000 version of the measure.

The Senate yesterday continued to sustain the finance committee on all but a few minor amendments George was willing to accept.

In debate on the gambling tax, Senator Kefauver (D) of Tennessee said the new levy would make a factor in playing instruments, Gard said.

People with thin lips do better on the trumpet, for instance, and full-lipped persons are better on the trombone.

Don't Worry About Guy Who Blows Big Horn

CHICAGO (UP)—Don't feel sorry for a little guy blowing the sousaphone, William Gard says.

Gard, executive head of the National Association of Music Merchants, said that although the biggest instrument in the band, the sousaphone actually requires less strength and blowing power than many smaller horns.

Physical attributes, however, are a factor in playing instruments, Gard said.

Legal Ad Prices Up To Paper, O'Neill Declares In Ruling

COLUMBUS, Sept. 28 (UP) —Attorney General C. William O'Neill has ruled that newspapers can charge whatever price they desire for legal advertising.

O'Neill also told the state auditor's office that newspapers do not have to accept legal advertising and that they can charge "transit" rates for legal advertisements even though they have a schedule of prescribed rates.

Transit rates are those used by newspapers in charging higher prices for out-of-town concerns than for local advertisements.

O'Neill's opinion is contrary to the only Ohio court decision in the matter.

He said that a law establishing a rate of $1 per square inch for the first insertion and 50 cents for additional inches applies only to newspapers of less than 25,000 circulation.

O'Neill attacked the doctrine set out in a Defiance county court decision about 20 years ago which said that newspapers were "impressed with the public interests" in such matters. Higher courts in other states have ruled otherwise.

O'Neill said that newspapers are a private business and the public interest doctrine does not apply.

He advised the auditor's office, which asked information on how much public agencies could be charged for legal advertising, that:

"It has been fundamental in our society that the business of newspaper publishing is in the nature of a private enterprise for the reason that the freedom of the press is and must necessarily remain one of the bulwarks of liberty in our society. To fetter the press is to fetter ourselves."

City Man Gets Navy Plaque For Winning Crucible 'Idea'

W. Lee Johnston, 501 Oakland Ave., a Crucible Steel Co. employee at Midland, Wednesday received a plaque from the Navy's chief of industrial relations for his idea under the firm's Suggestion Plan that saved the mill $4,700 in one year.

Explaining the effectiveness of the industrial suggestions system, Rear Admiral W. M. Hague, in presenting the award to the East Liverpool man, told the National Association of Suggestion Systems at its annual regional conference in the Roosevelt Hotel in Pittsburgh that it "is the groundwork of a firm labor-management relationship".

Johnston's idea, which recently was worth $440 awarded him by Crucible, was for revising a guide box on hot rolling metal, and was termed typical of such savings gained by the company under the suggestion system.

The Navy admiral said "as a hard-boiled business proposition, suggestion systems have proved over and over that dollar-wise they are the wisest investment a business can make".

With Johnston at the plaque presentation were three members of Crucible's suggestion committee, Carl Reed, James Dunlop and John Eccleson, all of East Liverpool.

Other awards were made recently by the Midland Works under the system.

Casey Bryan, 342 West Fifth St., received $105 and a similar award was made to Carl Wagoner, 117 Sixth St., Midland. Bryan is a recorder and Wagoner an inspector in the Cold Strip Department. They submitted a joint proposal for a paper reel.

Other awards were to Pete Vranesevich, 464 Penn Ave., Midland, for $110; John B. Smith of LaCroft, and Harold Peterson of Erie St., for $40 each and Howard Pitts of Sophia St., who received his sixth check under the system.

Man Reported Dead In Error By Hospital

HAMMONDSVILLE, Sept. 28 (Special)—Neighbors of Mrs. Martha Reed of nearby Somerset Hill today quelled a report her husband, Robert, had died at the Cambridge Receiving Hospital, where he is a patient.

In a phone call Wednesday night, the institution for elderly people requested a neighbor notify Mrs. Reed that her husband had died.

However, the hospital called back Thursday, after Mrs. Reed had been told, to apologize and explain their files carried two Robert Reeds, and the wrong papers had been pulled at first.

Old Bridge Still Stout

BENNINGTON, Vt. — Spanning the Connecticut River here is the old covered bridge which local folks boast is the strongest of its kind in the world. The bridge seems as sturdy today as when Ethan Allen and his Green Mountain Boys swarmed across it to meet a warring group of New Yorkers and drive them back to Albany, N.Y.

Newell Man May Be Alabama 'John Doe'

Sheriff Dick Wright today contacted Alabama authorities for more information on their dead John Doe with the chance it may be the body of a Newell man missing nearly six weeks

Mobile has the body of a man killed in an auto accident but has been unable to identify him and he will be buried in 10 days as John Doe, unless claimed meanwhile

Sheriff Wright said the description doesn't quite fit the Newell man Fred Douglas of Glendale Road but he is checking Douglas is 39 and was driving a Hudson when he vanished

The John Doe may be a West Virginian as the only address found in his effects contained this address 501 West Church St W Va omitting the name of the town

Has At Least 12 Years

Other Prison Terms Still Face Bookie Cross

NEW YORK Sept 28 (AP)—Bookie Harry Gross sentenced to 12 years in prison for operating a 20 million dollar a year gambling ring still faces an additional 10 year jail term for contempt stemming from the police graft trial

The 35 year old bookie sat glum and silent yesterday as he heard himself sentenced in Special Sessions Court to serve one year each running consecutively on 12 counts of a 66 count indictment charging gambling and conspiracy

Sentence was suspended on the other 54 counts and there was no fine Maximum sentence would have been 68 years in jail and $34 000 in fines

The bookie still faces other prison terms At the collapse of the recent police trial Judge Leibowitz sentenced Gross to five years and a $15 000 fine for contempt

On Wednesday the grand jury indicted Gross on charges of criminal contempt which carry a 10-year maximum jail term and a $10 000 fine on conviction The jury's indictment supersedes Leibowitz penalty

Gross attorney Michael Kern, said he will appeal yesterday's sentence immediately

Justice William B Northrup heading a three man court pronounced sentence

Before doing so the bench made it clear to Gross that he was being penalized for wrecking the police graft trial of 18 officers by refusing to testify against them

Gross talked freely about operations of his bookie empire and how he paid police protection amounting to one million dollars But when it came to naming police names Gross balked and shattered the case against the defendants

Northrup told Gross

You gloried in the fact that you bribed corrupt members of the police force and you seem proud to be looked upon as a fountain of corruption You are a cesspool of corruption which the people are sick of

Had you chosen to aid the people this court would have looked upon you in a different light But you made your choice and now you must answer for it I let word go out to the community that he who trifles with justice will get nothing but justice

Prior to sentencing Gross the legal stage had been set for a spectacular expose of the bookie's testimony before the Brooklyn rackets-probing grand jury

Kings county District Attorney Miles F McDonald fighting mad after Gross ruined his two-year buildup toward the police graft trial had said he would read a digest of that testimony listing police names which would implicate some 100 as bribe takers High police brass is said to be among them

McDonald read from the grand jury records using a 100 page digest but the names of the policemen were not disclosed

Just before the reading Leibowitz asked that the names be withheld He said he reversed the D A's much-publicized plans because it would be unfair and un American to name names when the accused policemen had no opportunity to defend themselves

McDonald said

By itself without naming names, we cannot show the full scope of Gross familiarity with members of the Police Department But I am bowing to the judge's decision '

After sentencing Gross showed little emotion as he was taken to a jail cell But he did mumble

You'd think I committed murder or something "

But Not Before Storm Of Protest

Truman Quickly Kills O.P.S. Censorship Order

WASHINGTON Sept 28 (AP)—An Office of Price Stabilization memo to its staff to withhold from the public any information which might embarrass it was killed promptly last night on President Truman's orders

The chief executive moved just two hours and nine minutes after word of the directive leaked out, but even that was not soon enough to head off a storm of protest over the O P S action in the Senate

Joseph Short White House press secretary announced that Truman had directed that the memo be withdrawn because it 'might be misconstrued to be an outgrowth of Truman's order setting up new curbs on release of material affecting the national security

The controversial O P S memo was issued Tuesday the same day Truman issued his order

The President had said his new security regulations must not be used to cover up mistakes made by any official or employee of the government

The O P S staff bulletin was issued in its own words 'to emphasize the necessity for limiting the use and inspection of files to employees of the O P S and to prohibit the disclosure of material contained therein or the release of any other internal information that might cause embarrassment to the O P S '

The White House statement said Truman had been assured that the O P S did not mean to classify its operations as 'security information but that he felt the memo was so broad that it might be misconstrued in 'violation' of his order on that subject It added

In the work of the O P S it is frequently necessary to obtain confidential information from businessmen which naturally cannot be divulged to competitors or others The O P S will prepare a new bulletin to clarify 'this problem "

O P S Director Michael V Di Salle was in Chicago when the memo was disclosed

He termed it 'poorly conceived and said of its withdrawal If I'd been there we wouldn't have needed a request from the President

The bulletin was issued over the name of Richard F Cook assistant director for management but Cook told reporters he did not actually sign it

He accepted full responsibility but would not say who actually had prepared it

After the White House statement Cook said he was glad to withdraw the bulletin He added that the original purpose was not to restrict information of legitimate public interest

The storm which quickly blew up in the Senate promised to subside

Senator Maybank (D) of South Carolina said he was happy to learn of the President's action taken after the Senate recessed overnight

He added however that if any question is raised as to why such a stupid order was issued he will call together the Senate-House economic controls committee, Maybank heads that group as chairman of the Senate banking committee

In the brief period the memo was still in effect Senator Ferguson (R) of Michigan called it a blow at liberty

Yugoslavia To Boost Rents 200 To 850%

BELGRADE Sept 28 (AP)—The official press said yesterday that the Yugoslavia government will boost rents from 200 to 850 per cent under its new economic plan expected to go into effect this year

A blueprint of the plan reshaping Yugoslavia's economic and financial structure, will be submitted to parliament for certain approval

It provides for substantial wage boosts the abolition of rationing and the sale of nearly everything on the free market It also will permit a bonus incentive system on farms and in factories to encourage production

House Refuses To Interfere In Ireland Partition

WASHINGTON Sept 28 (AP)—A proposal to put the House on record as favoring a plebiscite on the question of uniting northern and southern Ireland was turned down yesterday

Chairman Richards (D) of South Carolina of the House foreign affairs committee argued that the resolution by Representative Fogarty (D) of Rhode Island amounted to a meddling in the internal affairs of Ireland

The House agreed and voted 206 to 139 against considering it

Meanwhile there was gloom in Dublin and joy in Belfast Northern Ireland over the defeat

Sir Basil Brooke prime minister of the six counties of Northern Ireland which are still part of the United Kingdom was quoted as saying rejection of the resolution is a triumph for propriety and good sense over high pressure partisan propaganda

Ireland's Prime Minister Eamon De Valera while not commenting directly on the resolution, said

'The area cut off six of Ireland's 32 counties was not decided by and did not correspond to the will of the local inhabitants In at least half of the area cut off the inhabitants by a majority resent and have always resented being separated from their fellow countrymen '

U.S. Scores Victory In Czech Trade Fight

GENEVA Sept 28 (AP) — The United States and Czechoslovakia have been freed of all trade and tariff obligations to each other by the contracting parties to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade

The decision yesterday was a victory for the U S which sought to end its trade concessions to the Communist country on the ground that relations between the two had deteriorated to the point where beneficial economic relations had been nullified

4 Slaughterhouses In Youngstown Named

CLEVELAND Sept 28 (AP)—Office of Price Stabilization officials today said injunctive action probably will be taken against seven slaughterhouses in the Warren-Youngstown area

Creighton E Miller O P S district enforcement director said four slaughterhouses in Youngstown two in Warren and one in Girard were found yesterday to be in apparent violation of O P S regulations

One of the Youngstown plants kept no records at all and one had no kill records and did not tag meat cuts Miller said Records of the other two Youngstown firms were found to be improper

He reported one of the Warren slaughterhouses kept no records while the other had no kill records and did not tag meat cuts The Girard firm was accused of not tagging meat with chilled weights

Names of the companies will not be made public until court action is taken Miller declared
